EFFECT ON PEKIN OF BOXER SIEGE.

Streets Leading to the Foreign Office Improved but Place Itself as Shabby as Ever.

NEW PALACE UNDER WAY

Dowager Empress Finds Money for Elaborate Pavilion Near the Winter Park.

[BY ELIZA R. SCIDMORE.]

PEKIN, June 10.—The street leading to the Tsung li Yamen in Pekin was taken in hand by the Germans during their occupation of that quarter of the Tartar city, after the boxer siege, and the roadbed raised in the middle and ditched at the side until the old mud sloughs and ponds in which diplomats' mules used to flounder and drown on their way to and from official visits no longer impede traffic.

Otherwise, the Chinese foreign office is the same shabby, disreputable looking place as tourists look in its open gateway. Messengers lounge, smoke, and sip tea at the gatehouse, and across the first flagged entrance court one sees a second gateway, with doors of mazarin blue paint greasy with long handling.

A sorry sort of a place in which to receive and do honor to the envoys of great powers! A poor contrast to the dazzling white palace, with its shining parquette floors and heavy gold furniture in which the Siamese foreign office conducts its affairs; and a sorry old circumstance beside the Parisian looking white building in the exquisitely kept grounds of the Japanese foreign office in Tokio.

This state department of the Chinese government is at the most distant point possible from the palace, far from the legations, and put where it is for no good reason that one knows. It is a great pity that in the peace negotiations it was not also stipulated that a new and proper building for the reception of ministers and the conduct of foreign affairs should be built immediately facing the fortified legation quarter wall.

***

The empress dowager is finding time—and money—to build a new pavilion, or small palace, at the extreme end of the winter palace inclosure, close to the south wall of the great western garden or park, which will be used for the reception of foreign ladies, for informal audiences and presentations. One can look in the gateway and see the sawing of great timbers and other preparatory work going on, and one hears in Pekin that the pavilion of the foreign ladies is to be built in foreign style, after a Russian model. Russian architecture, as the Chinese architect sees it from pictures and drawings, will doubtless be something quite fearful and wonderful, and when the pavilion is furnished in foreign style, aniline dyed carpets and ornate furniture will doubtless have their innings, and the place stand in extremist contrast to the imposing, formal old palace rooms in the pure Ming style.

When the western art world wakes up, catches up, and catches on to the real orient in art and decoration there will be a fearful eagerness to avail of opportunities that went sadly to waste in 1900. The present war will arouse interest in all things far eastern, and then may the oriental artist, architect, and decorator have his time to smile at the travesties the uncomprehending western designer will make and be pleased with.

It does not take much of a prophet to foretell that long before this century is ended rival and envious plutocrats will be wrangling as to whose ceremonial apartments are in the purest, most correct, and consistent Ming style, just as they split hairs and define "the hint of the tint and the tone of the blue" in their various Louis XVI., empire, and colonial rooms now. There have been many Japanese rooms constructed to order in American great dwellings that were the most woeful parodies of anything that ever was in Japan. Chinese rooms are rarer, and are usually rooms filled with modern Cantonese blackwood furniture, carved to suit the foreign taste and fashion.

There is a great field here for some ambitious young artist of interior decorations, who has studied and read on the subject, and learned Chinese art in the lines that western collectors have been able to assemble it. There is a chance for such a well grounded student to come to Pekin and study out and work out designs for pavilions and rooms of Chinese construction and decoration that would make a furore in his world.

***

As for old furniture, the west little knows yet what treasures these old palaces once contained and still contain; what exquisite fancies, what graceful and fantastic designs, what splendid dignity and expressive lines went to the solid, solid pieces of ebony, ironwood, and blackwood furniture in Chinese palaces.

The Ming style was the simplest, purest, strongest, the classic form from which departures were made in Manchu times, and the lines and ideas of the Kanghsi and Chienlung styles are distinctly different.

When some one who knows the Chinese language well and where to hunt and whom to cross question will master the Chinese furniture subject as Lady Dilke has mastered European furniture of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, we should hope for a book of surpassing interest and attractiveness.

Chinese porcelains we know down to the last word, and books multiply in each season, all aiming to present the subject more clearly and precisely to the collector and student. Great collections of Chinese porcelains are accessible to all who would see and know in the great cities of the world; and that subject has received its just dues in the west.

Japanese painters, their schools and works, are known with preciseness, and one may study text books and collections at will in every country, but of Chinese paintings next to nothing is known save by a few specialists. Dr. Anderson's "Catalogue of Chinese Paintings in the British Museum" and the brief chapter in M. Paleologue's "L'Art Chinois" are almost all that are accessible for purposes of study, and collections of Chinese paintings are few outside of China.

French collectors have shown the most considerable appreciation of Chinese paintings in the western world, and Japanese connoisseurs have had a free field in collecting old paintings here until within a few years. Slowly the foreigner has begun to mouse in the old picture shops, but for want of a good text book, something to tell him more precisely of the schools of painters, of the painters themselves, and their manner and method, their signatures and ciphers, little advance can be made.

JAPS AT GATES OF NEWCHWANG

Russians Burn Railway Station and Begin to Withdraw Troops from the City.

LOSE 700 IN A BATTLE.

Japanese Drive Enemy's Outposts Back to Tatchekiao; Land Men from Transports.

BULLETIN.

YOKOHAMA, July 25.—The Vladivostok squadron yesterday sunk the British steamer Knight Commander, from New York, off the province of Izu, after transferring the crew of the Knight Commander to the steamer Tsinan, which arrived here this morning.

The Vladivostok squadron also captured a German vessel, believed to be the Arabia, with 30,000 tons of flour, and an unknown British steamer. The two vessels were sent to Vladivostok in charge of prize crews.

[The Knight Commander, according to the Maritime Register, is a British steamer of 2,716 tons burthen, commanded by Capt. Durant. It sailed from New York on May 6 for Singapore. On June 23 it was at Manila, and last week was reported as having arrived at Shanghai. The owner of the Knight Commander is the Knight Steamship company, limited, of Liverpool.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, July 25, 3 a. m.—The Tokio correspondent of the Times says he believes that the object of the Vladivostok squadron is to interrupt trade between the United States and Japan, and that steamers on the way from Canada and San Francisco are in serious danger. He says that another aim of the squadron is apparently to seal Tokio bay.

BULLETIN.

CHEFOO, July 25, noon.—The German steamer Chefoo, from Newchwang, reports that at 2 o'clock this morning, when it was fifty miles from this port, it was stopped by four Japanese torpedo boats and searched. After being released it was fired on by rapid fire guns.

BULLETIN.

TIENTSIN, July 25, 10 a. m.—In accordance with orders issued by Gen. Kouropatkin, the Russians commenced to evacuate Newchwang yesterday (Sunday). This morning the Russian railway station is in flames. The Russians are evidently destroying their property previous to evacuation.

JAPS AT NEWCHWANG.

LONDON, July 25, 3 a. m.—The Russians have abandoned Newchwang after a two days' battle, in which they are reported to have lost 700 men in killed and wounded.

Before evacuating the city the Russians yesterday burned the railway station and presumably all their stores and supplies.

The fighting for the possession of Newchwang began on Friday, when the Japanese advanced from their position south af Tatchekiao. The Russian outposts were driven back to Tatchekiao and the fighting became general.

The Russian force of twenty battalions under Gen. Stackelberg, who was so seriously defeated at Vafangow on June 14, 15, and 16, gave battle and contested every foot of the Japanese advance.

Gen. Oku's force overwhelmed the Russians, however, and the latter were compelled to retreat toward Tatchekiao.

Transports Land Troops.

News from Liaoyang states that a Japanese fleet of seven cruisers had appeared off Yinkow, the port of Newchwang, escorting transports. Troops on board these transports are believed to have been landed for the occupation of Newchwang.

The capture of Newchwang seals the fate of the Russian gunboat Swoutch, which has been held at the mouth of the Liao river since the war began.

With a Japanese army at Newchwang the position of Gen. Kouropatkin's army at Tatchekiao, Haicheng, and Liaoyang becomes more critical than ever. Military experts point out that Japanese boats of light draft can carry troops and artillery up the Liao river above Liaoyang much more rapidly than Kouropatkin's army can retreat.

Stirring events in the Liao valley are looked for in the coming few days.

JAPS MAY BE IN PERIL.

LONDON, July 25, 3 a. m.—The Daily Chronicle's Yinkow correspondent reports that there was heavy fighting Saturday and Sunday in the neighborhood of Tatchekiao with Gen. Stackelberg's force consisting of twenty battalions of infantry, a brigade of artillery, and a division of Cossacks, and that the Russians appeared to be drawing the cordon tighter around the Japanese positions.

The Daily Telegraph's Chefoo correspondent, under date of July 23, says:

"A junk from Dalny reports that last night a Japanese fleet of twenty warships and twenty torpedo boats bombarded Hwangshin for three hours and the forts replied."

The same correspondent learns that the Japanese first army is being largely reinforced by veterans from the reserves.

Russian Plans a Puzzle.

The correspondent of the Standard with the Japanese army, under date of July 24, says:

"It is difficult to understsand the intentions of the Russians. Kouropatkin is evidently bent on a retreat northward, yet he lingers in the south, attracted apparently by Port Arthur."

The correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, in a dispatch dated at Motien pass July 23, regards Gen. Kouropatkin as outmaneuvered and anxious to abandon Liaoyang without fighting, but also reluctant to retire while Port Arthur remains uncaptured.

RUSSIA HAS THE NEWS.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 25, 4 a. m.—It seems to be fairly certain that sharp fighting is now in progress near Newchwang. Gen. Sakharoff reports that the Japanese commenced to push forward from Kaichou on the morning of July 23 and forced the retirement of the Russian rear guard to Tatchekiao, while a simultaneous Japanese advance began from the valley of the Sachi, on the east, apparently also directed against Yinkow by way of Tatchekiao.

Though Gen. Kouropatkin was reported to

MERRY DEL VAL OUT?

Report That the Papal Secretary of State Has Resigned.

POPE REFUSES TO ACCEPT.

Cardinal Blamed by Colleagues for the Strained Relations with France.

ROME, July 25.—The Tribuna says it is said that Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, has tendered his resignation, owing to the hostility of the cardinals, which indicates that they accuse him of rendering impossible an accord with France, and that the pope has refused to accept the resignation.

If the concordat with France is abrogated the secretary, who is a Spaniard, would naturally be held more or less responsible because of his official position.

Terms of the Concordat.

The concordat, over which there is so much controversy, is defined as a treaty between the pope and a secular state touching the conservation and promotion of religion in that state. By the concordat of 1515 the union of church and state in France was virtually established. The king nominated the bishops and the pope confirmed the choice within six months. The relations remained cordial under this until during the later years of the reign of Louis XIV., when serious trouble arose, lasting for eleven years, during which the pope and king were at odds. The latter then gave in.

All Church Property Sequestered.

During the revolution in the last decades of the eighteenth century the religious fabric of France was wiped out of existence and the churches, colleges, seminaries, convents, and monasteries to the value of four billions of francs ($800,000,000) were sequestered by the government and their wealth and endowments converted into national property.

Napoleon followed, and seeing the personal advantage that would result by the restoration of the organized church of which France had been deprived for two decades, he negotiated the formation of a commission whose sessions were held under his auspices in Paris.

Framing of the Concordat.

Cardinal Consalvi, the pope's secretary of state, acted with Napoleon in framing the concordat. The latter agreed, in order not to disturb the titles acquired by outside parties to the sequestered church property, to pay yearly about $7,000,000 in salaries from public funds in lieu of returning the property.

If the concordat is abrogated all seminaries, chapels, religious establishments, convents, hospitals, asylums, etc., which belong either to religious congregations or to different societies that have been enabled by contributions of pious people to erect them, will be confiscated by the government.

Wealth in Gold and Silver.

In the treasury of most of the old churches and religious establishments are many valuable vestments and a wealth of gold and silver chalices, ciboriums, monstrances, and other articles of altar furniture and sacred vessels used in the ceremonials of the church. These, according to the statement made by an ecclesiastic today, are considered as of the church endowment and would be taken by the government when property is sequestered.

AGE TO MARRY IS 24.

Gov. Warfield Tells Girls They Should Not Wed Too Young.

POINTERS TO GRADUATES.

Advice of the Executive of Maryland Causes a Stir.

Baltimore, Md., July 24.—[Special.]—Gov. Edwin Warfield has aroused a stir among femininity by stating that 24 is the proper age at which a girl should marry. He made the statement in addressing the graduates of the Wilmington High school recently, and today followed it up with the following interview:

"If asked the age when girls should marry I should say 24. That was the age of Mrs. Warfield when I married. I was 36. I have said to my daughters that I should not give my consent to their marrying until they arrive at that age.

"Marriage for the purpose of settling a daughter in life is, as a rule, a failure and an unhappy one. No parent, and especially no true and loving mother, will wish to push her daughter into matrimony before she is fully married and fitted for the grave responsibilities of married life. Young girls just out of school are not equipped for the ordinary household duties of wives and for the cares and trials of motherhood. They should, after leaving school, spend some time with their parents, giving their parents the pleasure of their companionship and learning something of the everyday work that will be theirs as wives."

The declaration of the governor has started no end of a controversy, and it is believed he will have difficulty in backing it up.

TIGER AND BULL GET LOOSE: SPANISH GRANDEES ARE HURT.

Two Animals Were to Fight, but Escaped, and Sensational Panic Followed Effort to Kill Them.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, July 24.—There was a sensational scene in the bull ring here today. After a farcical fight between a bull and a tiger, both animals broke loose and stampeded the spectators. The attendants in firing on the animals struck and wounded several of those present, including the Marquis Pedal, the vice president of the senate; the Marquis Quijo, and a French tourist.

Ten thousand Spaniards and foreigners witnessed the affair. The animals were in a large cage in the center of the bull ring. The bull charged twice, but the tiger crouched so low that he escaped unhurt. Then the brutes refused to fight, and the spectators became so excited that squibs, fire rockets, and spikes were used to goad the animals to fury. These failed, the bull bellowing piteously and the tiger crouching.

Men then entered the arena and goaded the animals until the bull charged again, literally driving the tiger through the door of the cage. Then the panic started. Provincial guards fired at the tiger and continued firing their rifles wildly. There were some comical scenes during the panic. One man climbed on the cage for safety and another emptied his revolver into the dead tiger.

MOB VENTS ITS FURY.

Strike Sympathizers Wreck Bread Wagon as It Leaves Yards.

BEAT DRIVER AND HIS AID.

After Vehicle Is Set Ablaze Police and Firemen Arrive.

A mob of 5,000 strike sympathizers attacked a bread wagon of the Heusner Bakery company that was returning from making a delivery of bread to the stockyards last night, and, after beating the driver and his companion, cut the horses loose and set fire to the wagon.

The Injured.

Clark, J. C., 2815 South Park avenue, superintendent of the bakery, who was driving the wagon, head and face badly bruised, and back injured by a flying cobblestone.

Smith, Edward, 2823 South Park avenue, shipping clerk, accompanying Supt. Clark on the wagon, back bruised and wrenched in being dragged from wagon by rioters.

At 6 o'clock in the evening, Clark and Smith left the bakery at 2612-2618 South Park avenue with the first wagon load of a large shipment of bread to be delivered at the Armour plant to feed the men at work. The delivery was made safely, but while the wagon was being unloaded at the plant word was conveyed to the idle men gathered around the yards, and they collected at the Forty-third street entrance.

Shower of Missiles Hurled.

When the wagon appeared the men were armed with sticks and stones, and it was greeted with a shower of missiles. Clark whipped up his horses and dashed at full speed through the crowd, and east in Forty-third street to Butler. Here the street was blocked by another crowd armed with bricks and cobblestones, and he turned again.

At every corner the wagon was forced from its course, and finally was stopped at Forty-third street and Emerald avenue, where a mob of several thousand men had gathered. Large stones were thrown crashing through the sides and top of the wagon.

Clark and Smith jumped off and tried to run, but were beaten before they finally escaped.

Wagon Set on Fire.

In the meantime some of the crowd had been cutting the traces. The horses were then turned loose. Finding Smith's coat under the seat the crowd saturated it with kerosene, lighted it, and threw it into the wagon.

A policeman turned in a riot call and a fire alarm, and fire department and police responded. The police drove the crowd back and the fire was extinguished.

Upon escaping from the crowd they had run into a saloon at Forty-second and Wallace streets. They were chased from this retreat and ran into a flat over the saloon. They were driven from the flat also, and ran to the street, where they were pursued through streets and alleys until rescued by the police at Forty-third and Halsted streets and escorted to their homes. At the bakery all attempts to deliver the remainder of the bread were abandoned. No arrests were made.

Negro Workers Attacked.

At 6 o'clock in the morning a disturbance occurred in a saloon at Forty-fifth and Loomis streets. Eight nonunion negroes, employed in the yards, ordered drinks. They quarreled with the bartender about the price and he seized a club and drove them out.

DRIVERS' COUNCIL AGAINST STRIKE.

Forbids Yards Teamsters Walking Out in Sympathy and Names Peace Committee.

MEN'S DECISION VETOED.

Ultimatum to Packers Will Result in Mixed Situation Today—Many Unions Quitting.

The general sympathetic strike, scheduled for this morning, of all the trades employed in the meat packing industry received a check last night at the meeting of the teamsters' joint council.

Permission to engage in the strike was refused the packing house teamsters. Instead of sanctioning the entrance of the drivers into the great struggle, the central body of the organization appointed a peace committee. This committee will visit the packers this morning and seek to find some way to end the strike.

Men in Favor of Strike.

In the afternoon the packing teamsters had voted by a large majority to walk out. The members of the local were enthusiastic for permission to get into the fight. It required only a short debate in the council to defeat the proposition and to carry another providing for the reopening of negotiations. The meeting was held at 85 Madison street.

This action was taken by the teamsters after they had been addressed by President Donnelly, Vice President Stirling, and John Floersch, Nic Gier, and Philip Murphy of the butchers' union. They presented the cause of their organization and indirectly asked for aid. The motion that the sympathetic strike be called was tabled.

Check to Sympathetic Walkout.

The stand taken by the drivers makes it an impossibility that there can be any general sympathetic strike. When the peace committee meets President G. F. Golden of the local will instruct the representatives of the mechanical trades of the decision to make another effort to restore order into the confusion. The lead taken by the teamsters will have much weight with the other workers.

Whatever happens, the packing plants, safely isolated on private property, will be operated, in the slaughtering departments, the owners declare. Enough men have been brought in during the last forty-eight hours to assure this, they believe.

Predicts Break in Ranks.

"I look for a split in the butchers' union early this week," one of the packers said last night. "The cattle butchers were guilty of a gross violation of the agreement last Friday and the other men will not consent to being kept out of work because of their conduct. We will have plenty of the old men back at work in a few days."

J. Ogden Armour hurried from New York yesterday to Chicago, where he will participate in the conference of the packers today.

The result of the upsetting of previous plans by the teamsters was to throw the entire matter into a state of great confusion. Saturday night the general sympathetic strike was positively announced by the labor committee if the employers did not agree to certain demands. The employers refused to agree. Then the teamsters, the union whose position was of chief interest, withdrew from the arrangement.

Many Will Strike Anyway.

Half the union men still working in the stockyards believed last night they were to strike this morning. Many of them, it is expected, will go out without further investigation. Until they have received further instructions the packing house teamsters will believe they are not to work today, after their strike vote of yesterday afternoon.

President Donnelly spoke for the butchers before the teamsters' council. He reviewed the history of the relations between his organization and the packers and told in detail of the incidents leading up to the strike.

Donnelly Asks for Help.

"And now," he said, "we have come to a point where the life of our union is in the balance. If we cannot win this fight we cannot continue to exist.

"President Golden of the teamsters has done much for us in arranging conferences with the packers and he has done his utmost to bring about peace. Now we must have more help from you."

"Do you wish us to sanction a sympathetic strike?" Donnelly was asked.

"I ask nothing," he replied. "But I know it is the hope and desire of the butchers all over the country that the teamsters, firemen, and mechanical trades come to their help."

When the strike vote was tabled it was moved and carried that a teamsters' committee march into the breach and assume the rôle of peacemakers. The members of the committee follow: G. F. Golden, Daniel Furman, M. F. Kelly, Edward Mullen, William Gorman, W. B. Luedtke, William Hoginz, George Wilson, and J. B. Barry.

Golden Explains the Action.

"The butchers' union could have sought our advice at the beginning of its trouble," President Golden of the council said at the close of the session. "But it did not. We are taking this action because we were ignored all the way through the controversy. Donnelly got his men in a hole and could not get them out and then he came to us for help. We cannot be expected to involve ourselves in the fight until we have made an effort to adjust it.

"It seems to me the present trouble might have been averted anyway."

Golden's name was signed to the ultimatum from the labor committee Saturday night in which the sympathetic strike was threatened in the morning. He explained his anomalous position by saying that signature was null and void if the council did not indorse the document to which it was attached. The meeting was held at 83 Madison street.

Rank and File for War.

At the afternoon session of the packing house teamsters at Forty-seventh street and Princeton avenue, the vote for the strike stood 214 in the affirmative and 14 in the negative. It was in vain that the leaders advised the drivers that it was contrary to their interests and that the international union and the Chicago central body frowned upon sympathetic strikes. The packing house teamsters' agreement expired recently and a new one is being negotiated for. This, it was explained, would be placed in jeopardy by going out.

Every allusion to the butchers was greeted with enthusiastic applause. Past differences were forgotten, and when the question of the walkout was put to a vote it carried with a hurrah. Vice President Stirling and others of the butchers addressed the drivers.

Plan to Nullify New Strike.

When it seemed certain early in the day that the teamsters' voice would be for war the packers began to prepare a new system of meat delivery.

"There is much talk," one of them said, "of adopting the system in vogue in the large eastern cities and abroad. In these places we do not deliver our meat to the market men. We have warehouses at various points within easy reach at which the dealers call for their goods.

"In Chicago there are seventy-five stations operated by the packers and all of them are reached by railroad tracks. Teams will not be needed to get meat to these branches and still the people can get the supplies they need. If the system is successful it may be adopted permanently."

General Strike Taken for Granted.

In the gatherings of union men in the neighborhood if the stockyards every one expressed sympathy with the butchers. It was taken for granted generally that all the trades would be called on strike in the morning, and many men said they would not take the trouble of reporting for work.

The leaders of many of the organizations have sought from the first to avoid the complications that would follow the extension of the struggle. The stationary firemen are in a predicament even worse than the teamsters. They are about to secure an agreement from the packers that they long have wanted, and the leaders of the organization believe they will lose the chance of getting it if they strike now.

President J. W. Morgan of the union has opposed involving the organization in the fight if it could be prevented. His position was not wholly clear yesterday. As secretary of the labor committee of Saturday he signed the ultimatum to the packers. But he would not commit himself to the statement that the firemen would strike today.

Engineers of Less Importance.

The engineers are of minor importance in the matter. The union went into a fight with the packers a year ago from which it has not recovered. At first it was planned not to ask the union engineers working in the plants to join in the strike at all.

One of the largest unions concerned is the car workers. The organization recently has entered into an agreement with the concerns operating refrigerator car lines. This would be forfeited by a strike.

Furthermore, the officers of the union fear they would lose their hold on the other shops in the city and vicinity. If the men walked out in the shops controlled by the packers the latter would send their rolling stock to other concerns to be repaired. If the workers did not strike in these places their walkout at the yards would be of no avail. And if they did they would become still more involved in the tangle. At the last, the employers could have their cars repaired in other cities.

Stock Handlers to Help.

The live stock handlers are looked to by the striking butcher workmen to be of material assistance to them. Both organizations are in the same national union. The stockmen were left at work in the earlier stages of the struggle because President Donnelly did not want to have the cattle, sheep, and hogs in the yards untended.

Stirling and James Killeen saw General Manager A. G. Leonard of the Union Stockyards and Transit company in the afternoon and said that the stock drivers would be called out in the morning. The only union men permitted to remain in the pens will be the watchmen.

Position of Mechanics.

It is admitted by the labor men that the mechanics cannot affect the struggle materially one way or the other. If the steamfitters, machinists, blacksmiths, electrical workers and other tradesmen go out the packers can let repairs wait until they get new workers. The carpenters are not considered as an element of importance.

"The carpenters struck once before," one of the packers said, "and they came back nonunion men. No great injury can be inflicted by a strike of the rest of the workers in the mechanical departments."

The packers who have been directing the struggle for the various companies did not go to the yards at all. In the afternoon several of them went to their country homes, but they will be back today.

Deny Signing with Union.

J. E. Maurer of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger said there was no truth in the report that the concern had signed with the union, so far as he knew. He referred to the fact that he had signed the last note from the packers refusing the terms proposed in the union ultimatum as evidence that the company had not signed.

The situation in New York, where the company was said to have negotiated for peace with the union, was explained by one of the packers.

"The men were called out in New York Friday morning, the same as in the other cities," he said. "Later they were told to go back. They did not work on Saturday, as it is the Jewish Sabbath, but the plants have been working full crews today and many cattle have been slaughtered."

Prepare for Struggle Today.

Preparations for the bitter struggle to begin today were under way at the stockyards. More than 700 new strike breakers were taken into the yards.

Little work was done at the plants, the day being spent in instructing the new men and in preparations for their accommodation. Carpenters at the Swift plant worked all night building stockades around the loading platforms, similar to those put up at Armour's, to prevent attacks on the nonunion loading gangs.

Large shipments of coal were received at all the plants. Some of the shovelers struck.

The commission men have stopped every shipment of live stock that it was possible to reach, and have telegraphed to shippers to send no more until further notice.

O'Neill Ready for Trouble.

Chief O'Neill spent the afternoon visiting the plants. He has detailed twice as many men to the yards as there were during the great railway strike of 1894, and says he has many more to station there if necessary.

The Rev. Father Thomas J. Bobal of the Bohemian church at Hermitage avenue and Fiftieth street exhorted his people to refrain from violence and urged them to accept a settlement if one can be arranged. The Rev. Father M. Pyplats of the church of St. Mary, Forty-eighth and Paulina streets, cautioned the men against hasty action, but pointed out the necessity of "fighting for their rights." The priests of the district are organized in an attempt to restrain their congregations from rioting, and much of the peaceful attitude of the strikers is said to be due to their influence.

Strike Breakers Escape Violence.

Three hundred negro workmen were taken into the yards at 10 o'clock in the morning and distributed among the packing houses. No attempt was made to prevent them from entering, and they were sent to the different houses without police guard.

The women of the stockyards district are adding in a novel way in settling the question of ways and means of carrying on the strike. Three Polish brides volunteered to give the proceeds of their weddings to the strikers' fund. From $400 to $500 often is secured from the "bride's dance," and the weddings during the day were well patronized.

Bride's Gifts for Strikers.

The wedding of Miss Luthia Droesky and Petrel Czek was celebrated in the afternoon in the saloon of Alls Grabinski, 4301 Ashland avenue, by a bride's dance, which continued late into the night. Miss Droesky is a daughter of J. Droesky, a striking butcher employed by Hammond & Co., and the result of the bride's dance brought a large addition to the strikers' fund.

MAYOR RETURNS; STUDIES STRIKE.

City Officials Fear Plan to Bring on General Labor Struggle Here.

HINT IN KIDD'S TALK.

O'Neill Tells Mr. Harrison He Can Send 1,600 Patrolmen to the Stockyards.

The revival of the stockyards butchers' strike and the danger of a greater labor struggle brought Mayor Harrison back to Chicago yesterday morning from Huron mountain. All told, Mr. Harrison had had thirteen and one-half hours' vacation, and he had traveled 850 miles to get it. Even then he said he was glad to get home.

"I am in the position of a man seeking information. I have no plans of my own," he said in the afternoon. "I came back so as to be on hand if anything happened. I brought no fixed program with me."

Mayor Fears Serious Disorder.

But, although he would not say so, it was evident the mayor was afraid serious disorder might grow out of the stockyards struggle. The first thing he did was to hold a consultation with Chief O'Neill and then to talk with Corporation Counsel Tolman over the telephone. The latter could tell him nothing he had not already read in the papers. The talk with the chief concerned means of keeping the peace.

O'Neill informed the mayor that so far there was nothing alarming. He held the disturbances of Friday and Saturday had been exaggerated. He said that if necessary 1,600 effective men could be used on strike duty at the stockyards. This force he thought sufficient to meet any probable emergency.

Bad Place to Stop Rioting.

The chief went on to tell his superior that in some ways the stockyards was about as bad a place to handle a crowd of rioting men as could well be devised.

"There are too many dark alleys in which a striker can hide to attack nonunion men to make it an easy proposition," he said. "Then the price of whisky in that country is too low. A man can get wildly enthusiastic on a quarter."

Still, so long as the nonunion men were kept in quarters the chief said he did not expect any great difficulty in keeping order. It would be in case they mingled with the crowds outside or a general strike ensued, especially if the teamsters were involved, that trouble was to be looked for. Then he might need all the men he could muster.

May Be Required to Interfere.

When asked if he would make any attempt to intervene, the mayor said:

"I will not unless I am asked. If I am, of course I would be glad to do what I can to bring about peace. It would be bad policy, to put it mildly, for me to mix up in the matter now. I would be told by both sides I was meddling and do more harm than good. Were either or both sides to ask me to act as mediator that would put the matter in a different light. So far, however, there has been no request made of me, nor have I any reason to expect one."

It was suggested the time might come when he would have to intervene on his own motion, and the mayor replied:

"That would happen if the peace of the city seriously was threatened. That would be excuse enough. It might happen also that a case would arise when interference might be productive of good. It would have to be done, however, at the psychological moment, and that certainly is not now."

Declares Police Force Too Small.

In speaking of what the police force might be called on to do the mayor said:

"The 1,600 men who were turned out during the street car strike represent the available force. That was a street strike, like the one of stockyards teamsters before it, and it took more men to keep the peace than would one confined to a locality, even if more persons were involved. If the teamsters go out that would make a street strike of this one, as the packers would insist on sending out their products.

"With the 1,600 police on strike duty and 400 more on crossing and special work, it would leave around 300 more to patrol 195 square miles of territory, day and night. That would not be a pleasant prospect."

Tells of His Lost Vacation.

Mayor Harrison joked about his lost vacation.

"Everything looked quiet when I left here Thursday night," he said, "and I took the boat from Marquette for Huron mountain Friday morning, thinking about the fish I was going to catch and the good time I was going to have.

"I got to the club at 1:30 that afternoon, had luncheon, and began to get acquainted with my family again. The children and I had a good afternoon, and I went to bed early, without ever unpacking my trunk to get at the clothes to wear up there. Then at 3 o'clock in the morning came the boat back from Marquette with the news the strike had begun again. I put a comb and brush, a tooth brush, a pair of pajamas, and a clean shirt into a handbag and came back.

"We reached Marquette in time for the morning train for Chicago, but I figured I might as well be home Sunday morning as Saturday night. I could spend the day more profitably in Marquette, where I could talk over the telephone to Chicago, than on a railroad train where I would be shut off from the world, so I staid over. By night it was evident the strike was on again in earnest, so I took the train."

Strike Over Entire City Feared.

The one thing which is being considered most seriously by the city authorities is the chance of a strike covering the entire city, resulting from the present trouble—not a strike confined to the stockyards trades alone. It frequently has been stated that the unions made up largely of socialists and anarchists have been working toward this end for some time. Exactly what they expect to gain by it is not plain, but that their dream is a general walkout, in which every workingman in Chicago shall participate is fairly well established.

What they want, police officials say, is a repetition of the scenes just before the Haymarket riot, when at the pleading of Spies, Parsons, Fielding, Lingg, and the other apostles of anarchy a general strike involving every trade in the city was called for May 1.

While not universally obeyed, the call was pretty generally complied with. Then there was no demand for more pay or fewer hours for work. The cry simply was to strike for the sake of striking. The argument was it would show capital how dependent it was on labor, and result in a new order of things which would put the socialist and the anarchist on top.

Labor Predicts General Strife.

The statement of Thomas I. Kidd of the woodworkers' union and President Schardt of the Chicago Federation of Labor that they expect a general spread of the existing strike, has not reassured those who are looking at this phase of the situation. Schardt said in so many words that he awaited a more serious strike than the Debs insurrection of 1894, and Kidd added he saw no peace in sight. Kidd is known to be in full sympathy with the socialists and theoretical anarchists, and Schardt has knowledge of their plans.

The program which this element in trades unionism is supposed to be working on is, first, for a sympathetic strike among the allied stockyards trades. With this strike going, the rest, it is figured, would be easy.

The striking stockyards teamsters easily could infect the other teamsters throughout the city. The stockyards railroad employés on strike would appeal to the other railroad men to help them. Nearly every union in the city of any consequence, outside of the building trades, strongly is represented in the stockyards. While a direct appeal for a general strike would fail, a general strike, if properly fed and watered, might result if all the unions at the stockyards were out.

Views of Employers and Labor Men on Eve of Critical Day in Strike.

STRIKERS LOYAL, LEADERS ASSERT.

The butchers will remain steadfast to their oganization. If there were any of them who were wavering before the calling of the second strike, they now are firm in their support of their union. The unjust discrimination with which they were treated when they reported for work Friday morning aroused them as they had not been aroused before.

Preparations were made carefully for the strike and the butchers will not yield. The union is able to provide its members with the necessaries of life and they will not want. It is also certain that the other trades will do their part.

The struggle is recognized as one of greatest importance to organized labor in Chicago and all over the country. In the demands of the butchers there is nothing unreasonable. They ask for fair wages and fair conditions, and, now, for honest dealing from their employers. This is what trade unions stand for, and all union sympathizers feel the strikers' cause is theirs.

Skilled butchers, trained in the methods of the great packing companies, cannot be hired outside of the organization. The owners of the plants will have to come to it to get the men they must have.

PACKERS DECLARE PLANTS WILL RUN.

Every plant controlled by the Chicago packers will be operating successfully in a few days. Enough workers already have been engaged by them to run with a considerable output. There are thousands of skilled workers in the country who are glad to obtain employment at the good wages paid in the big plants.

The men who will fill the packing houses will come from two classes. First, the new nonunion employés, gathered from cities and villages all over the country; and, second, the strikers, who will troop back rather than see their places lost to them. A decided split in the ranks of the union is expected early this week.

Having regard for the future as well as for the present, the packers are content to fight the battle out to its end, now that it has been begun. Then they will have peace in the industry for some years to come. The union members broke away from President Donnelly and thereby proved themselves not amenable to discipline.

The developments in the strike indicate the unreasonableness of some of the union demands. Conditions are so different in different cities that wages cannot be the same, as asked.

FIVE PICKETS ARE SHOT.

WORKMAN AT ST. JOSEPH USES GUN WHEN ATTACKED.

Negro at Swift Plant, Threatened, He Says, by Strikers, Fires Into Crowd and Wounds Several—Is Captured by Police and Hurried to Jail—Violence Is Feared—Injured All Union Men — Strike Conditions in Other Cities.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 24.—[Special.]—Five union men, pickets on duty at the west end of Missouri avenue, were shot today by Abe Kruse, a negro strike breaker employed at the Swift packing house. One probably is fatally wounded. All the men were wounded by one shot from a magazine shotgun.

Because he returned to work Kruse says he twice has been assaulted and that his home twice has been set on fire by strikers.

The Wounded.

Finnigan, Steve, 526 Missouri avenue; shot in legs.
Jetta, John, 413 Ohio street; shot in legs and body.
Newmeyer, August, 309 Colorado avenue; shot in legs.
Sanger, Joe, 421 Michigan avenue; shot in leg.
Weigle, Joe, 5216 Kinghill avenue; twenty-three shots in body; probably will die.

Fires When Pursued by Pickets.

As a result of the shooting feeling among the strikers is running high and the police are having trouble in preventing rioting.

The negro passed through the lines to his home last evening, remaining there over night. It is said he was chased by pickets as he went out.

When he returned to work today the assault was renewed, a statement of witnesses being that the negro was pursued by a large number of pickets. Unable to elude them, he turned and fired, apparently as a last resort.

The negro then escaped to the plants, where he was taken in charge of by the police. He was hurried to the county jail.

Many nonunion men were assaulted today. Every available policeman that can be spared is on duty at the packing plants, with Chief Franz in command.

Men to Be Brought In.

Rumors are that the managers of the plants will attempt to bring in a large number of strike breakers during the night, and in consequence a feeling of uneasiness pervades the lines of the pickets. Twelve men were brought to St. Joseph on a Santa Fé train and taken to the plants under police protection early this evening, and this action caused additional high feeling among the strikers.

Strike Breakers from Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., July 24.—More than 125 men who have said they were willing to take the places of strikers at the Chicago packing houses are awaiting the word which will send them there.

"We can furnish a carload of men a day," said Manager J. F. Shields. "Every man knows the conditions that prevail in Chicago, but they are willing and anxious to go."

The resumption of the strike has not as yet caused any disturbing effect on prices of meat in Cleveland.

Say Mechanical Workers Will Stay.

Omaha, Neb., July 24.—[Special.]—According to reports received here today by Vice President Vale of the butchers' union, it does not appear as if the mechanical workers would strike, even if ordered to do so. One who is conversant with affairs says that when the amalgamated association held its convention at Cincinnati last May the mechanical workers made a proposition to affiliate. This was refused, and ill feeling is said to exist.

Will Strike at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., July 24.—No strike action was taken by the union packing house employés here today. The labor leaders here are not in favor of taking any decisive action until they know exactly what the Chicago unionists intend to do. It is certain, however, that the employés here will follow the lead of the Chicago unions.

Of the six packing houses in this city, only Swift's did any killing today. At Armour's and Fowler's the managers say they will open with increased facilities tomorrow.

Men at Work in New York.

New York, July 24.—To all outward appearances there is harmony between the big packers and their employés in this city. The killing of cattle went on as usual during the five Sunday work hours in the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger plant and that of the United Dressed Beef company. The leaders were busy holding conferences, however, and the situation in this city depends on the outcome of the conference at Chicago.

HAS CURE FOR INDUSTRIAL WAR

Father Larrabee Says Children Must Be Taught to Honor Father and Mother.

"The present trouble between capital and labor," said the Rev. E. A. Larrabee in his sermon yesterday morning, "is all caused by the general disregard of the fifth commandment. Children are not taught to honor their parents, and as they grow up they naturally show a disregard for all authority.

"The fifth commandment sums up all those preceding and following it, man's duty to God and to his fellow man. It is the command to respect all proper authority. The child who is taught to honor and obey his parents grows into a law abiding citizen. To the child the parents stand in the place of God and of all government.

"When all children are taught to keep the commandment, 'Honor thy father and thy mother that thy days may be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee,' there will be an end to these violent labor disputes."

Falls from Roof of Building.

While at work on the roof of a building under construction at 856 North Springfield avenue yesterday morning, Charles Marquette, 45 years old, 801 Cortland street, fell to the ground twenty feet. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital by the West North avenue police. His injuries were found to be severe.

KNOCKED OFF MOVING CAR

BOY BADLY INJURED AND CONDUCTOR ACCUSED.

James Milehan, 12 Years Old, Hurled from Speeding Trolley in Front of Stockyards Station — Lieut. Prim Sees the Act and Puts Crew Under Arrest, Locking Up the Two Men Till City Railway Superintendent Furnishes Bonds.

James Milehan, a 12 year old boy living at 4750 Union avenue, was knocked from the running board of a Wallace street car at Forty-seventh place and Halsted streets yesterday afternoon by the conductor of the car, it is said, and sustained severe internal injuries.

Conductor James Atkins, 765 West Fifty-ninth street, and Motorman James Roy were placed under arrest on the charge of assault.

The car was northbound, and the boy boarded it at Forty-eighth street, jumping on the side nearest the southbound track. The car was running at a high speed when the conductor saw the lad and ordered him off.

He was afraid to jump, and the conductor hastened from the rear platform to where the boy was clinging. Several passengers shouted to the angry man to wait until the car stopped, but they say he struck the boy on the side of the head.

Losing his hold, the lad was thrown to the ground, striking on his face and rolling over and over. One of the passengers rang the bell for the motorman to stop. The motorman did not respond to the signal, but increased the speed of the car.

The boy was thrown from the car immediately in front of the stockyards police station. Lieut. George Prim ran out and jumped on the car, while several patrolmen ran to the assistance of the injured boy.

Lieut. Prim placed the conductor and motorman under arrest, and forced them to back the car on a switch in Forty-seventh street and leave it while he locked them up. A large crowd gathered and threatened the men as they were taken to the station.

The boy suffered a broken nose, a sprained shoulder, and severe internal injuries.

Supt. Jones of the Chicago City railway appeared at the station a few hours later and signed bonds for the appearance of the two men.

COTTON WORKERS OUT TODAY.

Both Sides in the Fall River District Wait for Test of Strength This Morning.

Fall River, Mass., July 24.—With the hope of a peaceful settlement abandoned both sides in the pending industrial trouble here await with dogged determination the coming of tomorrow and the first test of strength between a little group of manufacturers representing a combined capital of $25,000,000 on one side and more than 25,000 cotton mill operatives on the other.

The mill gates will be opened at the usual time tomorrow morning, and the operatives will be given an opportunity to go to work under a wage reduction of 12½ per cent. If an insufficient number respond the mills will be closed for an indefinite period.

The manufacturers claim that the 2,000 union men who voted to strike do not represent the sentiment of the great body of cotton mill employés. They give the total number of operatives on their pay roll as 25,630. This, of course, does not include the employés at the independent mills of M. C. D. Borden, which are not involved.

John Golden, president of the United Textile Workers of America, the leader of the strike, has cautioned the operatives not to go near the mills tomorrow. Many wild threats have been made by an uninfluential class of workers, but violence is not expected. The only possible break in the ranks of the strikers is looked for at the Borden City mills. These mills, which normally employ 775 operatives, have not been operated on full time for two months, and the people who were employed there are reported desperate from want.

Regarding the nonunion element, the strike leaders believe that if it can be demonstrated for two weeks that the nonunion operatives can live on strike benefits as well as if not better than on the wages paid by the mills the strike can be prolonged indefinitely.

MILITIA TO GO TO BONESTEEL.

Adjutant General of South Dakota Orders Company B to Be in Readiness.

Pierre, S. D., July 24.—Adjt. Gen. Conklin of the state militia has ordered company B of Sioux Falls to be in readiness to march to Springfield on their return to Bonesteel. The order was given at the suggestion of Lieut. Gov. Snow, Gov. Herreid being out of the state.

Quiet Sunday at Bonesteel.

Bonesteel, S. D., July 24.—A peaceful Sunday was passed, no incident worthy of mention occurring to disturb the quietude that enveloped the town. There is a feeling of confidence that Bonesteel has been delivered from the reign of terror that has prevailed during the last week.

STRIKE BLAME ON POSTMASTER.

Secretary Haywood of Western Miners, in Message to Roosevelt, Accuses Victor Official.

Denver, Colo., July 24.—Secretary Haywood of the Western Federation of Miners has forwarded a telegram to President Roosevelt stating that Postmaster F. M. Reardon of Victor is one of the members of the committee which he says is responsible for deporting miners from the Cripple Creek district and asking that steps be taken to prevent federal officeholders from taking part in such demonstrations.

FIVE HURT AT GRADE CROSSING.

Illinois Central Suburban Train Hurls a Wagon Nearly Forty Feet.

ALL OCCUPANTS SUFFER.

Two Others Receive Injuries When Vehicle Is Wrecked by a Street Car.

All five of its occupants were injured last night when a wagon was struck and overturned by an Illinois Central suburban train at Seventy-first street and Madison avenue. A building near the tracks prevented the driver from seeing the train until it was almost upon him, and the vehicle was thrown nearly forty feet.

The Injured.

Anderson, John, 20 years old, 6710 Butler street; left leg fractured.
Peterson, Herman, 6 years old, 2818 Wallace street; cut and bruised.
Peterson, John, 35 years old, father of above; right hand severely cut.
Peterson, Leonard, 10 years old, son of above; cut and bruised.
Schwab, Frank, 13 years old, 2819 Wallace street; knees and head cut.

Tries in Vain to Cross Track.

The party was returning from an outing at Seventy-fifth street and Palmer avenue. Several girls and women were in the wagon on the trip out, but in returning they traveled on street cars. John Peterson was driving and the horses were on the track when he saw the train. He whipped them ahead, but the wagon was struck when squarely over the rails. The horses were cut loose by the engine and later were captured, unhurt. The injured persons were treated by a physician near by, and taken home.

Others Thrown from Wagon.

A similar accident occurred early in the morning when a wagon was struck by a West Twenty-sixth street electric car at Clifton Park avenue. Julius Kang, 1048 Lincoln street, the driver, was found unconscious, and taken home. He was severely bruised. His companion, William Reinhardt, 13 West Twenty-third street, was slightly hurt. The wagon was badly damaged and one of the horses injured.

James Roy, 17 years old, fell from a picnic train on the Chicago Terminal and Transfer railroad near Thornton, Ill., last night, and was crushed beneath the wheels. He had attended a picnic of the Whitefeather Indian club near Thornton. When the train was moving he attempted to cross from one coach to another, and fell between them, dying soon. He lived at 601 Fifteenth street.

In boarding a moving Madison street cable train at Homan avenue John Stratie, 28 years old, 310 Halsted street, fell to the pavement. His left collar bone was broken. He was taken to the county hospital.

Joseph Sette, a car repairer, 4826 Hermitage avenue, was killed in a fall from the roof of a car in the Grand Trunk yards at Homan avenue and Fiftieth street. He tumbled when a switching engine began backing the train, and his neck was broken. The switchmen were arrested.

Two Men Are Killed.

Northwestern elevated railroad officials declare a new motorman was responsible for the wreck at Chicago avenue on Saturday, in which a score of persons were injured. All of those hurt have left the hospitals.

"L" Service Long Delayed.

West side elevated railroad service was interrupted last night for several hours, when an interlocking switch at the Marshfield avenue station of the Metropolitan became blocked. In switching a Logan square train one of the cars was partly derailed, but no one was injured. The trains on the Logan square and Humboldt park branches were unable to proceed from 9:30 o'clock until nearly midnight.

Shortly after 11 o'clock east bound trains on the Douglas park and Garfield park branches were delayed for nearly an hour, to permit the moving of the other trains, which had become congested in the downtown district.

MEMORIAL FOR WRECK VICTIMS.

Pastor of Doremus Church to Hold Services Some Sunday Afternoon Early Next Month.

The Rev. Frank R. Bush, pastor of the Doremus Congregational church, is arranging for a memorial service to be held some Sunday afternoon early in August, when the congregation shall have recovered from the shock caused by the recent wreck of the Sunday school excursion train at Glenwood.

The relief committee, of which Supt. I. C. Pedrick of the Sunday school is chairman, has discovered a number of injured persons whose names had not previously been reported. Among these are Mrs. Peter Becker, 2316 South Canal street; Mrs. Eliza Hoffman, 2912 Parnell avenue; and a 4 year old daughter of Mrs. J. Lahey, 3013 Lowe avenue.

An announcement has been posted on the door of the church, signed by Mr. Booth and Mr. Pedrick, refuting the report that certain officers of the church had proposed to waive suits against the railway company.

The inquest will be resumed this morning at the Stanton avenue police station.

WANT COATLESS WORSHIPERS.

Four Leading Pastors of Muncie, Ind., Announce That Summer Attire Is Permissible.

Muncie, Ind., July 24.—[Special.]—Dr. E. B. Randle, pastor of the High Street Methodist church, the Rev. Harry N. Wilson of the First Presbyterian, Dr. C. M. Carter of the First Baptist, and the Rev. J. F. Burnett of the First Christian church, these being the largest churches in the city, have all made announcements that if men desire to attend their church services on hot days without coats they are welcome to do so.

STRIKE ON NORTHLAND FOOD.

Thirty Firemen and Deck Hands on Big Steamer Quit Vessel and Refuse to Return to It.

Harbor Springs, Mich., July 24.—When the big passenger steamer Northland arrived from Chicago today about thirty of the firemen and deck hands came ashore and refused to proceed with the boat, complaining that they were not furnished with proper food. The Northland proceeded on its voyage to Buffalo with a short handed crew.

Shot with Pistol, "Not Loaded."

Anton Bolgasit, 40 years old, 41 Concord place, is in a critical condition at the Alexian Brothers' hospital as the result of a revolver wound in the head. George Wood, living in the same house, fired the shot. He did not know the pistol was loaded and was showing it to his friend. He was arrested.

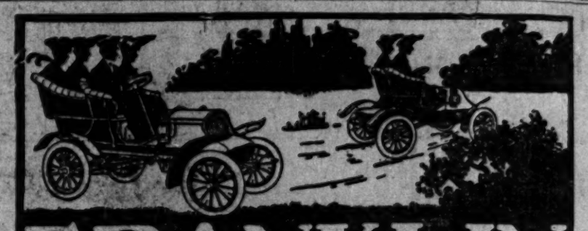

Woman Dies in the Street.

Failing to the sidewalk at 768 West Twenty-first street yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Annie Guidie, 80 years old, 753 Twentieth street, died of heart disease.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Two Lost Children Returned.—Two small children who strayed away from their homes on Saturday have been found by the police and returned to their parents. Sigmund Verner, 3 years old, 4706 Ashland avenue, was picked up at Marshfield avenue and Forty-seventh street. The little boy had followed a party of children and was not able to find his way back. Thomas Chrittoff, a child of the same age, Fiftieth street and Ashland avenue, was discovered by the stockyards police wandering some distance away.

Sunstroke Fatal to Priest.—As a result of being overcome by the heat, the Rev. Thomas Rowe, a Roman Catholic priest of Lyons, Ia., died at the Alexian Brothers' hospital. He was stricken on Friday afternoon at North Clark and Illinois street.

Used Franklins

are worth more than any other used car, for two reasons: (1) they are more durable; (2) they are a coming style and not a going style.

Water-cooled cars will go out of general use as surely as steam motor-cars—for the same reason. But Franklin air-cooled cars are a year or two ahead of the rest, and never will be a "back number."

They are worth more to sell, and therefore worth more to own than any other car at or near the price of the Franklin.

YOUTHS CONFESS HOLDUP MURDER

Four More Boy Bandits, Just Caught, Tell the Police of Many Crimes.

ADMIT ROBBING A SCORE.

Expected to Plead Their Guilt in Killing at Least Two Other Persons.

Emulators of the exploits of the car barn bandits, four youths arrested yesterday near the Harrison street police station, confessed killing one man in a saloon holdup and robbing a score of others at different times. The murder was that of John Lane, stage carpenter of the Illinois theater, who was shot in an attempt to hold up Gustav Riegel's saloon, 150 North Kedzie avenue, on the morning of July 4. The proprietor also was shot.

Inspector Lavin is confident the young men have not confessed all their crimes and he expects at least two other murders will be admitted today. Two of the boys were acquaintances of Harvey Van Dine, and the methods of the latter and his companions in practicing revolver shooting and using a dugout for a hiding place were copied by the youths, who spoke admiringly of the exploits of the car barn trio.

Arrested After Freight Robbery.

The prisoners are Peter Dulfer, 419 West Van Buren street; James and William Farmby, 900 North Forty-third avenue; and David Kelly, 369 Mohawk street. All declare they are less than 20 years old, but Dulfer and Kelly apparently are older.

The robbing of a freight car of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul line at Fairfield, Ill., last week led to the arrest of the quartet. At that time the men secured two dozen pairs of patent leather shoes. All selected shoes for themselves before disposing of the footwear.

Despite their many robberies they secured little money and were shabbily dressed. While Dulfer and the Farmby brothers were at Harrison street and Custom House place in the morning the contrast in their apparel attracted the attention of Policeman Charles Klaman. As he stopped to question the youths Dulfer attempted to draw a revolver. Klaman forced him against a building, wrested the weapon from him, and pointed it at the young man's companions, who had started to run. With their hands above their heads the trio were marched to the station.

Confesses Quickly; Names Pal.

All were taken to the office of Lieut. Larkin and Inspector Lavin. A half hour later a confession was secured from Dulfer. The others wept when told of the admissions of their companion, and in a short time they, too, had signed confessions. They told the whereabouts of Kelly, and an hour later he was arrested near his house. He also admitted his part in the crimes.

All of the youths are pressfeeders, and Dulfer, who is a member of Franklin union, declared he had been drawing a strike benefit of $4 a week during many months. Constant discussion of the robberies of the car barn trio, he said, incited them to similar effort. After his purchase of a revolver the holding up of pedestrians near their house was started. Small sums were secured from several and more revolvers and ammunition purchased.

Robbing of saloonkeepers next was begun. A saloonkeeper at Division street and Humboldt boulevard was the first victim. From him and several patrons $25 and a watch was taken. In a shooting gallery near the Harrison street station, where the car barn trio had practiced, their admirers afterward spent several hours each day. Dulfer boasted of his skill and said he killed Lane and wounded Riegel with a revolver in each hand.

Under the St. Paul tracks at Kedzie avenue a dugout abandoned by railroad laborers was taken possession of by the youths, who met there daily. The boys left home and secured rooms in downtown lodging houses when not sleeping in the dugout. They prepared meals in the dugout.

Score of Places Robbed.

Among the places robbed by them before July 4 were the following:

Axel Husby, saloon, 981 West Division street; $12 and watch.

William Smith, saloon, Hirsch street and Monticello avenue; $3, two watches.

Saloonkeeper, Spaulding and North avenues; $3.

Fruit stand, North Clark street and St. James place; $20.

The locations of the others were not recalled by the youths, who declared, however, that at least a score had been robbed. After the shooting of Lane, Kelly quit the band, securing work in a printing office.

PRAISES PURE MILK CRUSADE.

Medical Publication Declares It Is Criminal to Delay Delivery of the Fluid.

The Chicago health department's crusade for pure milk is praised in the current issue of American Medicine, which says:

"Shorten the time from the cow to the baby! One is glad to find the health commissioner of Chicago taking up the needed reform of the delay in shipping milk and delivering it to city households.

"It seems strange in these days of suburban trains and trolleys that the bulk of the milk used in such a city as Chicago should be from twenty-four to thirty-six hours old before its delivery. This is really criminal, and should be made illegal. There is no reason why the milk should ever be more than twelve hours old when delivered.

"Nearly 25 per cent of deaths are those of children less than 5 years old, and a large proportion of these are due to old, poor, impure, and diseased milk. The most expensive milk in the long run is the cheapest. The low priced milk is the poorest in nutritive value and the richest in disease. Its use by children should be discouraged in the public interest."

Heat of the last week, the department reports, increased the death roll of Chicago to 538, against 416 for the previous week. One person died of smallpox.

DENOUNCE RULE IN COLORADO.

Socialists and Others at Meeting Assail System of Dealing with the Striking Miners.

Protests against so-called "outrages against miners in Colorado" were made yesterday afternoon at a massmeeting in Brand's Hall, under the auspices of the Painters' Many trade unionists and socialists attended.

The speakers denounced the methods of Gov. Peabody and Gen. Bell, and resolutions were adopted appealing for financial aid for the striking miners. A socialist moved an amendment that an appeal be made to all wage earners to help do away with the present economic conditions by voting the socialist ticket. This was carried with a shout and cheers for Debs. Then $23 was collected to help the miners.

The principal speakers were Western Starr, John Collins, socialist candidate for governor of Illinois, James H. Cater of Denver, and W. T. Mills. "Mother" Jones failed to appear.

BOY DROWNS; 1,000 LOOK ON

EXCURSIONISTS POWERLESS TO SAVE LIFE IN LAKE.

Boat Carrying Lawrence Rextrew of 10 Ada Street and His Father Capsized by Waves from Steamer City of Benton Harbor at Mouth of St. Joe River—Man Struggled in Vain to Save Son—Mother's Sad Surprise.

In the sight of more than 1,000 excursionists on the steamer City of Benton Harbor and within a few yards of the shore Lawrence Rextrew Jr., 14 years old, residing at 10 North Ada street, was drowned from a fowboat yesterday morning at the mouth of the St. Joseph river. The boy was out fishing with his father when the skiff was capsized by the waves caused by the steamer. Mr. Rextrew struggled in the water in a vain endeavor to rescue his son.

Capt. Clark of the life saving station finally got the boy ashore, but efforts at resuscitation were without avail.

A few minutes later Mrs. Rextrew, anticipating a day of enjoyment with her husband and son at the Michigan resort, arrived on the City of Chicago. Seeing her husband on the dock, she waved her handkerchief to him. Five minutes later she had fainted in his arms on learning that her boy had been drowned.

The death of Rextrew makes the fifth drowning that has occurred at Benton Harbor and St. Joseph within the last two days.

Butte, Mont., July 24.—At the Belmont mine today three miners were drowned by the breaking of a bulkhead which held back the water of the Cambrus mine.

After repeatedly telling his fear of a proposed operation, Maurice Paul yesterday afternoon committed suicide in the Alexian Brothers' hospital.

When awakened for breakfast Paul asked that he be allowed to sleep, and the attendant had just closed the door when he heard a pistol shot. Paul had shot himself through the head, falling from his bed. He died instantly.

The man was a traveling salesman, 30 years old, and when in Chicago lived with his parents at 109 Maxwell street. The operation was to have been performed tomorrow morning.

RACETRACK MAN AIDS CHURCH.

John Condon Gives $250 to Harlem Congregation Whose Pastor Last Year Fought Gambling.

People of Harlem yesterday were surprised when John Condon, president of the Harlem racetrack, gave $250 for the building fund of the Evangelical Lutheran church of the suburb. The Rev. George Michelmann, pastor of the church, who received the gift, was a leader in the Citizens' legion, which last year conducted a campaign against betting at the track. Another of these leaders was the Rev. August Gross, pastor of the German Lutheran church, whose son, William Gross, recently was made village attorney of Harlem. The campaign against gambling has been dropped and the Citizens' legion is said to be dead.

DOSE OF MORPHINE KILLS BOY.

Henry Decker of Roseland, Hurt by Batted Ball, Given Drug by Physician to Relieve Him.

Morphine administered to alleviate pain, it is believed, caused the death of Henry Decker, 15 years old, who was injured by a baseball while watching a game on a prairie near his home, 10264 Wabash avenue, Saturday afternoon. The morphine was given him by Dr. F. A. Bonthius. The boy was struck on the left arm by a batted ball, and the bone was fractured. Dr. Bonthius was summoned and gave the boy morphine, the amount which, he said, was usually administered to relieve pain. It caused the boy to become violently ill and brought on paralysis of the heart.

Italians in Suburb Cover Image of Virgin with Money.

CARRYING THE STATUE OF ST. ANTHONY.

STATUE OF THE VIRGIN, THE ROBE COVERED WITH MONEY.

GREAT PARADE IN SUBURB

NEARLY 15,000 ITALIANS HAVE FEAST IN MELROSE PARK.

Celebrate Day of Our Lady of Mount Carmel—Cover Image of Saint with Bank Notes—Privilege of Carrying Statue Sold at Auction for $68—All in Line Which Proceeds to the Picnic Grounds—Baseball Game and Booths There.

To the music of eight brass bands playing different tunes, all the music brought from Italy, nearly 15,000 Italians yesterday noon paraded in Melrose Park, celebrating the feast of Our Lady of Mount Carmel.

The ceremonies began early in the morning with mass in the church named after the saint, and with a sermon by the pastor, the Rev. Anthony Petillo. Then the statues of Our Lady of Mount Carmel and of St. Anthony were brought from the building and placed under a large canopy. The people marched past the former and pinned bills to it until the statue nearly was covered with bank notes, some of $20 being given. Several hundred dollars were received.

Pays $68 for Carrying Statue.

An auction followed to determine who should have the privilege of carrying the statue in the parade. After a spirited contest Fortunato Rago was awarded the privilege for $68. With five friends he bore the image at the head of the line.

The young women's sodality followed, all the members carrying candles. In the rear of several hundred of them was a girl who bore on her head a statue weighing more than 100 pounds. Throughout the long march she never stopped to rest. Behind the second band in the parade were hundreds of little children, dressed as angels and as "guardian soldiers."

Thousands of men, many in brilliant uniforms, were followed by their wives, who brought up the rear of the procession. All marched to the picnic grounds west of the village.

Play Games at Picnic.

There booths had been erected, and in tents many games of chance were in operation. The Italians played the wheel of fortune, took tickets in lotteries, and rode on a merry-go-round. A baseball game was being played near by. The only "disturbing incident," as the parishioners called it, was the stopping of a game which the police declared was "a plain gambling device." A dozen of its promoters refused to cease operations until threatened with arrest.

A feast of macaroni and other food brought from Italy was served late in the afternoon, and the merrymaking continued until evening.

GOLD IN CLARK COUNTY, ILL.

One Nugget Picked Up Causes the People to Become Greatly Excited.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 24.—[Special.]—There is an outbreak of the gold fever over the state line in Clark county, Ill. A few days ago a farmer found a nugget in Mill creek which a Martinsville jeweler told him was worth $2.25. Now Mill creek is being thoroughly explored for "free gold" nuggets lying around loose.

It is recalled by older residents of Clark county that many years ago experienced miners came to the Mill creek territory to find gold.

Farther west in the state, in Coles county, the fever has manifested itself, and near Oakland Isaac De Moss and his son have begun digging where excavations were made half a century ago, when it was reported that "finds" had been made.

MYSTERY IN HAMPSHIRE CRIME.

Farmer Surrenders, Admitting Killing of Woman, Who, He Says, Gave Him a Drug.

Berlin, N. H., July 24.—John Green, aged 34 years, a farmer, surrendered himself to the police here today, stating that he had shot and killed Mrs. Spurgeon Lockhart at West Miland last night. This was the first knowledge the police had of the shooting and the case is still shrouded in mystery. Green explained that he killed the woman in a fit of jealousy and while under the influence of a drug which he said Mrs. Lockhart had been accustomed to give him.

FATE OF TRACK GAMBLING RESTS WITH GRAND JURY.

Sheriff Barrett Intimates That if Pending Resolution Be Adopted He Will Enforce It as Court Officer.

The fate of racetrack gambling in Cook county is said to depend on the action tomorrow of the grand jury. A resolution directing Sheriff Barrett to suppress bookmaking is pending before that body. If it is adopted, it is said that the sheriff will act despite his acknowledged friendship for the turf men.

Sheriff Barrett, when asked concerning the gambling situation last evening, confined his comment to generalities. He would make no specific statement as to possible raids in case the resolution is adopted by the grand jury.

"I am an officer of the court and as such will do whatever the court orders," said Mr. Barrett. "I was before the grand jury and answered the inquiries of the jurors. The whole matter is now in the hands of the court. I am waiting for orders. I will carry them out."

"Will the sheriff's office act of its own initiative?" was asked.

"It will enforce the court's instructions. I have no special plans. What may be done probably will depend on developments in the grand jury room."

Officials connected with the criminal court declared that the grand jurors would have no choice as to their action, even if some of them should happen to be friendly to the gambling interests or the racetracks. Evidence of gambling at the Hawthorne and Harlem tracks has been submitted and it was said that the jurors cannot refuse to act on evidence presented to them.

The report that powerful influences are to be exerted on members of the grand jury, if possible, to ward off any action was looked upon as a serious development in the situation. It was said that if evidence could be obtained of an attempt by outsiders to influence the jurors contempt proceedings would be instituted at once.

NEGRO GUILTY: GETS 20 YEARS.

Assailant of Eleven Year Old Girl Is Convicted by Jury at Cairo, Illinois.

Cairo, Ill., July 24.—[Special.]—A. B. Mason, a negro who has been on trial here for the last two weeks, charged with assault upon Lillie White, an 11 year old white girl, was found guilty by the jury today. His punishment was fixed at twenty years in the penitentiary. The crime was committed in Future City, a mile north of Cairo, on June 10. Mason was engaged in painting the house in which Mrs. White and her daughter live, and, during the absence of the mother, he assaulted the little girl, who has been in a precarious condition ever since. The news of the crime did not become public until Mason was lodged in jail.

EX-SENATOR VEST SINKS AGAIN.

Rally Only Temporary and Son and Daughter Stay at Sweet Springs.

Sweet Springs, Mo., July 24.—Ex-Senator Vest's condition at 8 o'clock tonight was much weaker, the rally of yesterday having been only temporary. Mr. Vest's son and daughter will not return to St. Louis as planned, but will remain near the bedside.

HOTEL CASHIER IS MISSING: THEFT OF $10,000 ALLEGED.

Disappearance of Fletcher Barker of Bostoff Results in Suspicion Being Directed Toward Him.

Boston, Mass., July 24.—[Special.]—Alleging that he stole the contents of the Parker house safe, in which were kept cash and jewelry deposited by guests, the police are looking for Fletcher Barker, room cashier, who disappeared a week ago. The management says it cannot accurately state the amount of the loss, but it is supposed to be $10,000.

Cashier Barker had only just returned from a vacation of two weeks and seemed glad to resume his duties, although he complained to several other employés that his stomach troubled him. He failed to report for duty next day, during the afternoon of which a guest called at the desk to get $350, which he had turned over to the hotel for safe keeping. The cashier on duty was amazed to find the safe "cleaned out."

When a guest deposits jewelry or money he receives a voucher in the shape of half a square piece of cardboard torn crosswise from corner to corner, the cashier keeping one piece and the guest receiving the other. On these triangular vouchers is the amount deposited and the number. Several vouchers issued to guests contained no stipulation as to the value or the amount of the deposit, consequently if these are presented the hotel will be at loss to know just how much the bearer of the same is entitled to, and will have to depend upon the latter's word of honor. This is said to be the most serious phase of the case, because the alleged irregular vouchers represent an unknown quantity so far as the hotel management is concerned.

Barker Lives in Medford.

Barker's disappearance naturally resulted in suspicion being fastened upon him. He is about 30 years old married, and stands well socially in Medford, where he lives.

STORM MAROONS PICNICKERS.

Two Thousand Persons Forced to Spend Night in Platte Canon Because Track Is Washed Out.

Denver, Colo., July 24.—[Special.]—Two thousand picnickers are marooned tonight in Platte Cañon, thirty miles from Denver, with little prospects of getting out for several days. They are clad in summer garb, and, with the mercury in the cañon down close to the freezing point, their condition is not to be envied. They were caught between two cloudbursts that swept down the cañon about noon, but it was not until late this evening that their plight became known. It is said that six miles of track have been washed out and that it will not be possible to resume traffic for some time.

OMNIVOROUS READER: CRAZY.

Cousin of the Late Secretary of State Gresham Averaged a Book a Day.

Elkhart, Ind., July 24.—[Special.]—The temporary insanity of Mrs. Thomas Wallin, cousin of the late Secretary of State Walter Q. Gresham, is attributed to excessive reading. She averaged one book a day. Her recovery is doubtful.

VOTERS' LEAGUE SEEKS NOMINEES

Figures Given Showing Independents Could Be Elected to Legislature.

TO OUST PARTY TOOLS.

Fight to Be Made in Districts Where Only Three Candidates Were Named.

George E. Cole, president of the Legislative Voters' league, gave out some figures yesterday bearing on the senatorial situation. Mr. Cole has been contending that in many of the districts in which the two major parties have sought to secure the certain election of their candidates by nominating only three between them there ar plenty of votes to elect an independent candidate if he were properly put before the public.

The figures show that in some of these districts there were cast at the last election more independent and scattering votes than were found in the column of the lowest candidate on a regular party ticket, while in others these votes came so near to a plurality that with the assistance of dissatisfied republicans and democrats such would have been the result. An even larger independent vote is expected this year, as, there being no United States senator to be chosen at Springfield this winter, the ordinary plea for party regularity in electing members of the legislature is not so effective.

What the Figures Show.

The independent and scattering vote in the districts in question, as well as that of the regular party candidate receiving the least support, is given as follows:

District.	Independent and scattering.	Lowest party.
Second	7,040	8,607
Third	6,398	11,255
Fifth	14,576	9,925
Seventh	7,105	10,577
Seventeenth	17,855	5,163
Nineteenth	9,211	10,604
Twenty-first	14,775	11,289
Twenty-seventh	8,378	9,022

Reason for Action of "Bosses."

In speaking of the considerations entering into the nomination of candidates for the legislature by the two party organizations, Mr. Cole said:

"Although the nominees for the legislature are of higher class than before the agitation for betterment began you will find in several districts it is because a nomination is equivalent to an election that the old men with bad records are being heartily backed by party leaders.

Hanecy Fights for "Ed" Morris.

"In the First district Judge Hanecy made a fight for Edward H. Morris and carried it to the point of disrupting the convention rather than admit defeat. While E. J. Magerstadt was opposed to Morris, he was working just as hard in the interests of Jacob Boll.

"In the Third district M. B. Madden and Magerstadt were devoted to the fortunes of Messrs. Davies and Jonas, and the only reason for their defeat is the fact that the delegates took the matter into their own hands and nominated such men as they saw fit, regardless of the wishes of the leaders.

"Doc" Jamieson's Attitude.

"In the Fifth district Dr. Norden was informed by Jamieson that he could not be renominated because he saw fit to stand for the people instead of taking Jamieson's orders. Norden will be on the ticket, because he won in a fight after an open appeal to the voters.

"In the Thirteenth John J. Hanberg, at the head of the Eighth ward delegation, held the balance of power and saw fit to stand with Mr. Kleeman against the wishes of probably a majority of the delegates.

"In the Ninth district I am informed that a majority of the delegates were opposed to the renomination of David E. Shanahan, and that he pulled through only by the active interest in his favor of County Assessor Miller.

Influence of John M. Smyth.

"Every one familiar with politics on the west side is more than convinced that Cavanaugh of the Fifteenth and Smejkal of the Seventeenth and Glade of the Twenty-seventh districts are kept in power by a certain leader that has been heretofore potent in republican affairs because of their usefulness and not for their moral and intellectual superiority. If I am rightfully informed a shoestring district was made up in the interest of Glade through the influence of John M. Smyth.

"In the Twenty-first district Fred Erickson was renominated against the protest and votes of a majority of the delegates from his own ward through the personal exertion of Senator Daniel Campbell after Campbell had stated in the presence of witnesses that his influence would be found in just the opposite direction.

Methods of John P. Hopkins.

"To go over the democratic situation would be merely to duplicate instances like the above. I will mention but two cases. In the Third district R. E. Corrigan, who, as I understand, had always been a personal friend and follower of John P. Hopkins, was refused renomination by that leader simply because he dared to assert his own manhood as a legislator.

"In the Fourth district the notorious Michael J. McInerney has been nominated for senator with the help of the president of the democratic county central committee, Ald. Carey."

DECORATES HIS OWN GRAVE.

Will Philips Disappears from Kokomo and Returns to Find Himself Buried with Tears.

Kokomo, Ind., July 23.—[Special.]—A Kokomo man had the unusual experience of decorating his own grave today. Twenty years ago Will Philips, part owner of the Kokomo Tribune, disappeared, and was never heard from. Four years ago a man named Philips was killed by the cars in the west, and the body brought here and buried. The corpse was badly mangled, rendering identification difficult, but relatives came hundreds of miles to attend the funeral, among them A. F. Philips, editor of a Salt Lake paper, and Mary Philips, a government clerk at Washington, D. C., brother and sister of the Kokomo Philips, who, they supposed, was being buried.

The reappearance of the supposed dead man with a good and sufficient alibi is as pleasing as it is astounding to the family and friends. Who the strange man is reposing peacefully in the Kokomo man's grave and receiving tearful attention all these years is a mystery. There never has been a claimant for the body.

Mr. Philips was in California at the time the funeral service was being conducted for him here, and knew nothing of the proceedings, nor did he know until his return home this week that he was supposed to be dead.

SINGER'S GOWN SHOCKS MEETING

Ministers at Ocean Grove Gasp When Mme. Schumann-Heink Appears.

TRY TO STOP ST. LOUIS.

Secretary Metcalf Informs Union That His Orders Reached New York Too Late.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE
New York, July 24.

Gasping surprise on the part of the audience and frowning disapprobation from the assembled clergymen greeted the appearance of Mme. Schumann-Heink, grand opera prima donna, who sang in the Ocean Grove auditorium last night. Mme. Schumann-Heink advanced to the edge of the platform between rows of choir girls in high necked white dresses and stood under the electric lights in a gray bespangled and bejeweled evening gown of extreme décolleté cut. Her shoulders rose out of a corsage which was supported by only two slender straps.

Prima Donna Shocks Preachers.

When the camp meeting officials were asked to comment on the incident they shook their heads gravely and answered nothing.

Mme. Schumann-Heink was invited to sing by Tali Esen Morgan, musical director of the auditorium.

With the reading of a telegram from V. H. Metcalf, secretary of the department of commerce and labor, in the meeting of the Central Federated union, it became known that a vigorous effort had been made by the United States government to stop the disabled American liner St. Louis at Sandy Hook Saturday morning, despite the declaration of its owners that the vessel was in a seaworthy condition, and that the government authorities had not objected to its sailing. When it was learned that two cylinders of the starboard engine of the St. Louis were disabled the committee representing the Central Federated union, the International Association of Machinists, and the Marine Trades council filed with the supervising inspector of steam vessels a protest against having the St. Louis taken to Belfast for repairs, and also contending that the vessel was not seaworthy, and that because of its condition its crew might lose their lives if anything should happen to the other engines.

Tried to Hold Up Liner St. Louis.

Secretary Metcalf's letter to the federated union stated that the inspector was ordered to hold the vessel until an inspection could be made, but the orders came too late, as the vessel had sailed.

Through a campaign of starvation, 5,000 peddlers on the east side hope to send a clamoring multitude to the doors of Mayor McClellan and Commissioner Woodbury, causing them to abolish an order forbidding push cart men from selling fish and other foodstuffs in the streets. The city provided space for carts at the entrance to the new bridge. At half a dozen meetings today push cart men unanimously pledged themselves neither to sell nor buy any fish, meat, fruit, or bread for three days. The jobbers joined in the compact.

Fish Peddlers to Boycott the Market.

By withholding food from residents in the tenement districts for that length of time the peddlers believe such a protest will go up from the east side that the mayor and the street cleaning commissioner will hear it and wipe out the objectionable order.

Julia Marlowe was called upon yesterday to defend suits for $4,000 brought against her to foreclose mechanics' liens against her summer home, Wildacres, at Highmount, in the Catskills. After an all day hearing by Judge Betts in the Supreme court she settled the cases for $100.

Julia Marlowe Defends Mechanics' Liens.

Miss. Marlowe began the construction of Wildacres four years ago. The contract price was $7,706. After Frederick Sheeley, a contractor, had spent more than a year on the work he became financially embarrassed and abandoned the job. His creditors at once filed mechanics' liens against the property, as Miss Marlowe announced that a clause in the contract provided that such action on Sheeley's part should make the contract void.

Crosby Kelley was next awarded the contract by Miss Marlowe to finish the work for $2,114. When he finished the house he claimed that there was due him $1,800. Other claims aggregated a similar amount. Miss Marlowe admitted an indebtedness of $91.12. Various suits were begun against her in the Supreme court and were consolidated in the suit tried yesterday. On the trial of the case it was found that the liens were defective in many cases and in others they had not been properly filed, hence the settlement.

The first strike in the Pennsylvania tunnel has been ordered here at Thirty-second street and Twelfth avenue for union wages and an eight hour workday. Members of the safety engineers' union began the strike and were followed by members of the rock drillers' and tool sharpeners' union, the stationary engineers' union, and the dock builders' union. Eight hundred men are out and the work in the tunnel is tied up.

First Strike in Pennsylvania Tunnel.

The strike is against the O'Rourke contracting company, and has been extended to all its contracts. These include the New York Central improvements from Forty-second street to Fiftieth street, and work on the Wanamaker building in Fourth avenue.

In a fight which began in the barber shop of Vincenzo Saitto, 2101 Third avenue, and ended on the sidewalk a man whose identity has not been learned was shot and killed this morning. Saitto was arrested charged with the killing. Saitto is a thick set, heavy man, and, although his antagonist weighed 170 pounds, he pushed him back against a bootblack stand, where he fell on top of him, each clutching for a revolver. The man was dead by the time the policeman had pulled Saitto away. The bullet had penetrated his abdomen. His opponent was painfully but not seriously shot in the right shoulder. The dead man had claimed that he lost a roll of bills in the shop and drew a revolver to intimidate the barber and his helpers.

Fight in a Barber Shop Ends in Death.

Two trunks containing $2,000 worth of clothing, the property of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Simms of Jacksonville, Fla., were stolen from the Pennsylvania railroad station on Tuesday by means of the substitution of spurious express checks for those originally pasted on them. Detectives traced the trunks to the apartments of Mrs. Bertha King, 721 Eighth avenue, and arrested the woman. She said the trunks had been sent by a young man whose father is connected with the New York Transfer company. He had told her they were his trunks, she said, and had asked if he might leave them there for a few days.

Bogus Checks Used; Two Trunks Stolen.

On Friday the trunks were sold to a dealer. What became of their contents the police don't know, the only things found in the woman's flat being a dress and a music roll.

CHICAGO MEN AT ESOPUS.

DINE WITH PARKER AND INVITE HIM TO RATIFICATION.

No Definite Answer Given, but Belief Is the Democratic Candidate Will Be Here on Evening of Aug. 20 — Is Pleased with Report That All Local Factions Are United in Favor of the National Ticket—Taggart Leads for the Chairmanship.

Esopus, N. Y., July 24.—Judge Alton B. Parker, democratic candidate for president, did not accept nor did he decline an invitation presented to him today to speak at a democratic ratification meeting to be held in Chicago on Aug. 20 next. A delegation representing Mayor Carter H. Harrison arrived at Esopus at 2:45 p. m. It consisted of E. M. Lahiff, secretary of the Cook County Democratic club, under whose auspices the meeting will be held; Oscar F. Mayer, president of the United German society; and Lawrence E. McGann, controller of Chicago.

Chicago Men Eat at Rosemount.

The visitors were driven to Rosemount, where they found Judge Parker's family at dinner. Plates were placed for them and after the meal Judge Parker took his guests into the library, where the purpose of the visit was talked over at length. Judge Parker told Mr. Lahiff, who acted as spokesman, that to accept the invitation at this time might cause him some embarrassment and he did not feel like promising to attend any event of that character, at least until after the notification ceremonies had taken place.

He did say, however, hat if he accepted any invitations at all he would visit Chicago, and that it would give him great pleasure to go if it were possible.

Factions Should Get Together.

What gave Judge Parker still greater satisfaction than he derived from the invitation to go to Chicago was the assurance that differences between opposing factions of Illinois democrats would be entirely settled, and that the party in that state will present a solid front for the national ticket. It was stated in the conversation between Judge Parker and the Illinois delegation that the ill feeling engendered as the result of contests between delegations seeking seats in the St. Louis convention will be eliminated absolutely. This information, coming from a representative of Mayor Harrison, proved reassuring to Judge Parker, inasmuch as it is taken to mean the healing over of the dispute between Mayor Harrison and John P. Hopkins, who, in all probability, will have charge of the campaign in Illinois. It is argued here that if Mayor Harrison says harmony, then warfare between the factions headed by Hopkins and Harrison is at an end.

Will Go Ahead.

After the conference at Rosemount Mr. Lahiff said that he had not expected an immediate answer from Judge Parker on the question of going to Chicago, but that it had been the purpose of Cook county democrats to let Judge Parker know that he had nothing to fear in the campaign as a result of differences that occurred at the Illinois democratic convention.

"We will go ahead with our arrangements for Aug. 20," said Mr. Lahiff, "and we hope Judge Parker will be present. In any event there will be a rousing meeting in the interests of the democratic ticket. We expect to carry Illinois this fall."

It was raining when the members of the Chicago party were ready to leave, and they were taken to the railway station at Esopus in Judge Parker's closed wagonette. By a hard drive they managed to reach the 4:45 train to Albany. The delegation will go west without calling on democratic leaders who are now assembling in New York for the meeting of the national committee on Tuesday.

"Judge Parker's extreme courtesy to Mr. McGann, Mr. Mayer, and myself was vastly beyond our expectations," Mr. Lahiff added. "Our mission, of course, was not confined to the mere presenting of an invitation to a meeting, but, for obvious reasons, I cannot go into details. It is sufficient to say that our visit has been all that we could desire it to be and more. Judge Parker will come to Chicago if he speaks anywhere away from home."

All for Tom Taggart.

When Judge Parker returned to Rosemount he found William F. Sheehan awaiting him. He called to talk over the business which will come before the national committee. He expects to go to New York early tomorrow. In relation to the chairmanship, the statement was made that the situation is unchanged, and that when the committee meets there is nothing to obstruct the selection of the man who, in the judgment of the majority of the members, is best equipped for the chairmanship. It is the opinion here that Thomas Taggart of Indiana will be elected.

Judge Parker and all the members of his family attended services today in Kingston. The trip was made in the judge's launch. On the return journey some rain fell, and the remainder of the day continued cloudy, with frequent showers. There were few callers at Rosemount during the afternoon.

Judge Parker's Mail.

Since Judge Parker became a candidate for president he has been deluged by letters from all sorts and conditions of correspondents. Four mails arrive each day and there are hundreds of letters that must be opened and read, classified, and all replied to. With the arrival of each bundle of letters they are delivered to Judge Parker's private secretary, Arthur McCausland, who glances at the contests and who has become an expert at classifying the mail.

With a blue pencil Mr. McCausland marks across the top its classification mark. For instance, "Baby letters," means that a child has been named after Judge Parker, or Mrs. Parker. Other classifications are as follows: "Indorsement by local organizations," "Congratulations," "Congratulations on gold dispatch," "Platform suggestions," "Requests for autographs," "Requests for photographs," "Offers help during campaign," and "Applications for positions," etc.

Former Senator Davis at Church.

Bedford Springs, Pa., July 24.—Former Senator Davis, his daughter, Mrs. Lee, his grandchildren, and his private secretary, Mr. Charles Robb, attended the Presbyterian church this morning. The senator, in conversation with a friend today, stated that he was much surprised when he received the news that he had been nominated by the St. Louis convention for vice president.

PICNIC TO BE WITHOUT BRYAN.

Nebraskan Says Lecture Engagements Will Keep Him Away from Chicago on Aug. 20.

William Jennings Bryan will not speak at the Harrison democracy ratification picnic on Aug. 20. He arrived in Chicago yesterday on his way from Albert Lea, Minn., to Delaware, O. He registered at the Sherman house.

"I shall do no political work," he said, "until after the Chautauqua season. A lecture engagement will prevent my speaking at the Harrison picnic here next month. During the campaign I shall make stump speeches in Missouri and Nebraska."

Mr. Bryan said that he had never felt better in his life. He expressed himself as pleased over the nomination of Joseph W. Folk for governor on the democratic ticket in Missouri.

MRS. JOHN A. MOLLET AND ADELLE VISTA MOLLET. MRS. VISTA E. ROLFE. MRS. ELVIRA BROOKS.

Four generations are shown in the picture above. The great-grandmother is Mrs. Elvira Brooks, her daughter is Mrs. Vista E. Rolfe, 1072 Sheridan road, her granddaughter Mrs. John A. Mollet, and great-granddaughter Adelle Vista Mollet. Mrs. Brooks is a granddaughter of Alva Cleveland, who came to Chicago in 1836. She is a worker in the Old Settlers' club. Her grandfather fought in the war of the revolution, and her husband, brother, and son fought in the civil war. The latter was a drummer when 13 years old. Mrs. Brooks herself during three years was a nurse in the civil war and was on the field at the battle of Gettysburg. Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Rolfe are widows.

PRESIDENT TO KNOW SOON: PLANS FOR NOTIFICATION.

Members of Committee Will Assemble in New York on Tuesday to Talk Over Wednesday's Ceremony.

Oyster Bay, L. I., July 24.—The arrangements have been made for the notification of Theodore Roosevelt of his nomination for the presidency. The ceremony will be on next Wednesday at 12:30 p. m. Following the custom, the notification will be at Mr. Roosevelt's home, Sagamore Hill. The members of the committee will assemble at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York on Tuesday evening to make preliminary arrangements.

Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, chairman of the committee, will arrive in New York some time tomorrow. He will receive the members of the committee as they arrive there. At 10:30 Wednesday morning the committee will board a special train at Long Island City for Oyster Bay.

Party Will Number 125.

On account of the isolation of President Roosevelt's home only about 125 persons will be in the party, including the members of the notification committee and relatives and friends of President Roosevelt who reside in the vicinity of Sagamore Hill.

Among those present will be Chairman Cortelyou of the national committee, Gov. Odell, and Senator Platt. It is probable that no member of the president's cabinet will be present. A majority of them, however, will meet the president on his return to Washington the latter part of the present week.

The ceremony of notification will be as simple as possible. The wide veranda almost surrounding the president's house will be draped with American flags. If the weather be fair the committee and guests will be assembled on the lawn. Speaker Cannon, who will make the speech of announcement for the committee, and President Roosevelt will speak from the veranda. Should the weather be inclement the curtains of the veranda will be lowered and the ceremony will take place under cover.

Luncheon After Ceremony.

After the addresses a luncheon will be served This will be followed by an informal reception and those present will then return to New York.

Chairman Cortelyou will arrive here on Tuesday and will be a guest of the president until after the notification. He expects then to start immediately for Chicago, where he will formally open the western headquarters for the campaign.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied by the older children, attended divine service as usual today at Christ church here. Secretary Shaw remained at Sagamore hill during their absence. In the afternoon the secretary left for New York. He expected to return immediately to Washington. His visit, he said, had no special political or official significance.

INDIANA DEMOCRATS BOOM TAGGART FOR GOVERNOR.

Party Leaders Think He Can Carry the State for Parker and Davis and May Force Him Into Race.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 24.—[Special.]—A boom for Thomas Taggart for democratic nominee for governor was started here today.

While Mr. Taggart refuses to commit himself on the subject, some of his friends have started the boom, and the man who is anxious to be chairman of the democratic national committee may find himself forced into the race for governor.

Walter Evans of Noblesville, the most influential democrat in Hamilton county, and one of the Nestors of the party in Indiana, said:

"The Hamilton county delegation to the state convention on Aug. 3 will vote for Tom Taggart for the nomination for governor. He is by all odds the man for the democrats to nominate. The effect of Taggart's nomination would almost be miraculous. It would immediately arouse the party to new life.

"From a doubtful state Indiana would at once become certainly democratic."

METHODIST CAMP WELL ATTENDED.

Thousands of People Go from the City to Worship at Desplaines Grounds.

BIG HALL OVERFLOWED.

Meetings Held Morning, Afternoon, and Evening and All Crowded.

Over 5,000 persons journeyed out from the city yesterday to attend the Methodist Episcopal campmeeting at Desplaines. Special trains were run at frequent intervals over the Northwestern road.

It was an orderly, solemn crowd that filed up toward the new tabernacle. The men threw their cigars outside the gate, being warned by rules posted on the trees. The women stilled their voices, and the children were hushed. Sounds of hymns floated through the grove. Around a bend the voices singing became more distinct.

Jesus is calling—is calling to me.

"That brings up sad memories, brother," said one pilgrim. "My daughter and her husband were in the Glenwood wreck. The children were singing that when the crash came. A neighbor's boy died in my daughter's arms."

"This must be the meeting," cried many when they came up to a large tent filled with worshipers. On nearer approach it was found to be the Norwegian tent. Sounds of another hymn came from farther down the long line of cottages.

"I don't believe there will be many at this meeting," whispered one woman. "They all seem to be at home."

Great Tabernacle Filled.

Soon, however, the great tabernacle was reached, and all doubts as to the size of the crowd were dissolved. The circular building, seating 5,000 persons, was packed and overflowing.

"The son of man is come to seek and save that which is lost. Will you come?" rang out the voice of the speaker, the Rev. Heber Jones. "Yes, yes, blessed be his name," came from the audience. Then followed an eloquent appeal to the sinners.

"Another meeting in ten minutes—the great service of the Pentecost, led by Bishop F. W. Warne from India," was announced at the close of Mr. Jones' sermon. And so it was all day.

Meetings followed one another all day. After the consecration service in the early morning a love feast was held at 9 o'clock in the tabernacle. An hour was taken up in testimonies and more songs. At 10:30 the Rev. F. H. Sheets delivered the morning sermon. Immediately after luncheon Mrs. F. W. Warne spoke to the children about the missionary work in Calcutta. In the evening a young people's meeting was held and an evangelistic service by the Rev. Thomas Harrison.

Regular Attendant for Years.

One of the most interesting persons at the camp meeting is Mrs. Amanda Smith, an old colored woman who has attended the meetings for many years. She was born in slavery, and has spent the greater part of her life in evangelistic work in various parts of the world. She is now the head of the Amanda Smith Orphan Home for Colored Children, in Harvey, Ill. Mrs. Smith is in great demand for speaking and singing at the meetings.

Today the regular consecration service and bible reading will be held in the morning, followed by a sermon by the Rev. E. J. Rose of Chicago Lawn. The Rev. H. T. Clendenning will conduct the afternoon service, and in the evening the Rev. Thomas Harrison will hold another evangelistic service.

RUSSIANS SINK SHIP NEAR JAPAN.

Vladivostok Squadron Captures Steamer and Sends It to the Bottom.

MAY GET AMERICAN CARGO

Pacific Mail Liner Korea, Due at Yokohama with Fleet, Lying in Wait.

BULLETIN.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

TOKIO, July 24.—Russian cruisers appeared off Shimoda at 8 o'clock this morning. It is supposed they are waiting to catch the Pacific Mail steamer Korea from San Francisco for Yokohama with foodstuffs and material for the Japanese government.

TOKIO, July 24, 6 p. m.—The Russian Vladivostok squadron has sunk a merchant steamer, captured off the coast of Izu province. The name of the steamer and its nationality are not known and nothing has been learned of the fate of its crew or of those on board.

Witnesses ashore first saw the steamer following the fleet. Then they saw the steamer fired upon, after which it disappeared.

The Russian warships were last reported at 11 o'clock this morning to the southwest of Cape Iro, Izu province, steering to the west.

Cape Iro is about sixty-five miles southwest of Yokohama and about fifty miles from the entrance to the bay upon which Yokohama and Tokio are located.

Aroused Over the Malacca.

The passage of the Dardanelles by the Russian volunteer fleet steamers, the seizures of German mail and the capture in the Red sea by Russia of the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Malacca have attracted great attention throughout Japan. The government is watching the situation keenly, but it has not given any form of expression to its views or indication that it will take any action in the matter.

Endangers World's Peace.

The editors of the Tokio newspapers have met and passed a resolution declaring that the passage of the Dardanelles by the Russian ships is a violation of treaty obligations and an insult to all of the powers; that the seizure of ships by the Russian volunteer vessels jeopardizes the interests of all neutral powers, and that Russia's action endangers the peace of the world.

NO MORE SEIZURES.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 24.—Orders have been sent to the volunteer fleet steamers St. Petersburg and Smolensk to refrain from interference with foreign shipping.

It is expected these steamers will eventually joint the Baltic fleet and be replaced by ordinary warships.

Grand Duke Alexis presided at yesterday's council which Count Lamsdorff, the foreign secretary, and Vice Admiral Avellan, chief of the admiralty department, and other high officers attended.

The result of the conference removes all doubts concerning the present attitude of Russia with regard to the volunteer fleet. The validity of the view expressed in the British note regarding the irregularity of the position of the vessels was so far admitted that the council agreed to waive the right of search.

Yields Right of Search.

After a long discussion, in which Count Lamsdorff took a leading part, it was decided that the present status of the volunteer fleet was not sufficiently well defined, according to international law, to render further searches and seizures advisable and that therefore Russia, in the interests of friendly relations with the powers, should withdraw the authority given the volunteer fleet in this respect.

GERMAN STEAMER RELEASED.

BERLIN, July 24.—The Russian government has ordered the immediate release of the Hamburg-American line steamship Scandia, which arrived at Suez yesterday flying the Russian naval flag and manned by a Russian naval crew.

The official report of the seizure of the Scandia, received from the German consul at Suez, says that the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk encountered the vessel at the island of Perim, in the straits of Bab-El-Mendeb, and that it was seized notwithstanding the fact that its captain showed from the manifest that there was no contraband of war on board. Twenty-five Russian officers and seamen were on board the Scandia when the report was sent, and it was the intention of the Russians that the passengers and a portion of the German crew should be landed at Port Said.

FIRED SOLID SHOT.

PORT SAID, July 24.—Advices received here say that the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk fired three blank shots across the bows of the British steamer Ardova, the cargo of which consists of coal and explosives, and, the vessel not stopping, the Smolensk sent two loaded shots at the steamer, one of them passing over amidships and the other over its stern.

The Ardova was then seized and its crew transferred to the Smolensk. The vessel will be brought to Suez.

The Ardova, Capt. Smith, sailed from New York on June 15 for Manila. It arrived at Port Said on July 11.

The Hamburg-American line steamer Scandia has been released. The Russian crew has landed here and will proceed to Odessa by the next mail boat. The Scandia is awaiting orders from its owners.

DARDANELLES ARE CLOSED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 24.—It is stated that as the result of the protests made by Sir Nicholas O'Conor, the British ambassador, Tewfik Pasha, the foreign minister, has given the necessary orders to prevent any attempt which may be made to take the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Malacca or the Russian volunteer fleet steamers St. Petersburg and Smolensk through the Dardanelles into the Black sea.

GERMAN STEAMER AGROUND.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

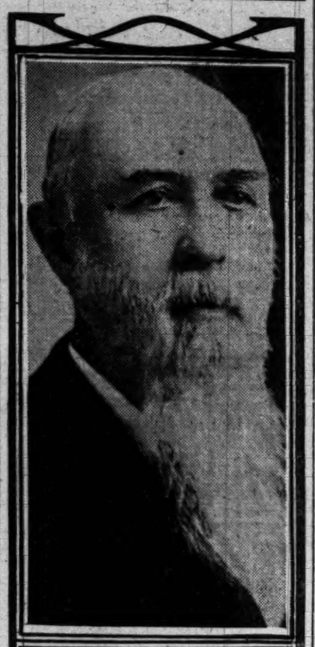

COLOMBO, July 24.—The German steamer Prinz Heinrich, which was held up in the Red sea by the Russian volunteer steamer which took some of its mail from it and then released the vessel, struck a rock off Dondra head yesterday and put into Calle, leaking seriously. The steamer will be delayed two weeks.

AMERICA NOT INVOLVED.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—Any action which may be taken regarding the seizure of the British ship Ardova by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk is a matter for the British government. It is not a matter which in the least concerns the United States.

Pioneer Resident of Chicago Dead.

GEORGE H. LAFLIN

DEATH COMES TO GEORGE H. LAFLIN

He Expires at Summer Residence in Pittsfield, Mass., Aged 67.

SOME TIME AN INVALID.

One of the Sons and His Daughter with Him When the End Came.

George H. Laflin, for sixty-seven years a resident of Chicago and a wealthy real estate owner, died suddenly last evening at Pittsfield, Mass., where he was spending the summer at his country residence, The Gables. He was 76 years of age. His daughter, Mrs. Elisha P. Whitehead, 1932 Calumet avenue, and his son, Arthur K. Laflin, were with him. His other son, Louis Laflin, 369 Erie street, who is in active charge of the business of the Laflin estate in Chicago, is in Waukesha, Wis. Mr. Laflin's wife died two years ago, just after they had celebrated their golden wedding. Luther Laflin Mills, Byron L. Smith, and Mrs. Chester M. Dawes are cousins of Mr. Laflin.

An accident four years ago, in which he sustained a fractured hip by falling from a car, had retarded Mr. Laflin's activity and compelled him to have an attendant always with him. This trouble, and grieving after the death of his wife, added to heart disease developed a year ago, greatly impaired Mr. Laflin's health. The immediate cause of his death was dropsy. The funeral will be on Wednesday in Pittsfield, where Mrs. Laflin was buried.

Born in Connecticut.

Mr. Laflin was born in Canton, Hartford county, Conn., on Jan. 19, 1828. When he was 9 years old his father Matthew Laflin, settled in Chicago, and lived here until his death, five years ago, at the age of more than 95 years. George attended private school in Chicago until he was 12 years old when he was sent to Ann academy in Lee, Mass. He then attended a preparatory school conducted by the Rev. Alexander Hyde in the same city. After finishing the preparatory school he spent some time traveling.

He began his business training as a clerk in a grocery, and after a year went to St. Louis to take charge of the powder depository for Laflin & Smith. He was recalled to Chicago two years later, in 1849, to become secretary of the Chicago Hydraulic company, in which his father was a director and a large shareholder. This was the first waterworks company organized in the city. They sold out to the city in 1853.

The next venture was to form a partnership with his brother to retail paper, the firm being known as G. H. and L. Laflin. They were burned out in 1870, and after reestablishing their business were again burned out in the great fire of 1871.

Rebuilding After the Fire.

After that fire it was thought best on account of the old age of their father for the sons to devote their energies to the rebuilding of the properties owned by him. Matthew Laflin left the whole task of making new office buildings and tenement houses to the two boys, while he gave his personal attention to the erection of the exposition hall for the fair of 1873. He was one of the board of directors of the fair.

George Laflin was for some time a director in the Elgin National Watch company. For the last ten years he had not engaged actively in business, and for the last four years he had depended on his sons to carry on his affairs.

He married in 1851 Miss Mary M. Brewster. They had five children, three of whom are living. The large house at 1614 Michigan avenue was their home for over thirty years. Mr. Laflin always was a stanch republican and was an especial admirer of William McKinley. He was a member of the Chicago and Washington Park clubs.

Japanese Cruisers Sighted.

The reported appearance of Japanese cruisers and transports off Yinkow, coupled with foreign telegrams telling of heavy fighting in that region bear out the intimation conveyed in the mutilated dispatch from Tatchekiao yesterday morning that serious movements have been undertaken by the Japanese to gain this coveted base on the northwest coast.

Should it develop that the Japanese are now making a determined attack on Yinkow it would throw fresh light on the heavy land movements of the Japanese to the northwest within the last few days. The menacing attitude of the Japanese on Lieut. Gen. Count Keller's front may possibly have drawn north a considerable Russian force. Certainly it has distracted public attention for the time being from Yinkow, but whether it has affected Gen. Kouropatkin's estimate of the situation may be proved by the nature of the defense which will be made at Yinkow.

UNREST IN SEOUL.

SEOUL, July 23.—[Delayed.]—The Japanese have posted in Seoul an announcement that the Japanese will exercise police power in all matters affecting Japanese interests. No anti-Japanese meetings will be allowed. This action is the result of the rapid growth of an anti-Japanese propaganda. Foreigners are not affected by the new order.

KRUGER'S FORTUNE MILLIONS.

Estate of Former President of Transvaal Estimated at $3,750,000 to $5,000,000.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, July 24.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Geneva says it is learned from a trustworthy source that the fortune left by the late Paul Kruger, late president of the Transvaal, is between $3,750,000 and $5,000,000. It consists chiefly of European securities. The bulk of it goes to the Eloff family.

SPENCER EDDY WINS AT POLO.

American Charge d'Affaires at St. Petersburg with Picked Team Carries Off Honors.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 24.—Spencer F. Eddy, American chargé d'affaires, and a team which included Secretaries Beaumont and Sperling of the British embassy, carried off the honors today in an international polo match between civilians and military officers at the picturesque Beloselsky grounds outside St. Petersburg, by a score of 5 to 4. The military men included Princes Beloselsky and Cantacuzene, both of whom married American women. Sir Charles Hardinge, the British ambassador, presented four cups to Mr. Eddy and his team.

MOB IN WAKE OF CONSECRATION.

Shots Fired and Windows Smashed Following Service in St. Patrick's Cathedral at Armagh.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, July 24.—St. Patrick's cathedral at Armagh, Ireland, was reopened and consecrated today. Orange mob disturbance occurred after the consecration and flags and arches were pulled down. The police charged the mob, the members of which retreated, smashing windows of houses occupied by Roman Catholics. Some shots were fired. Late tonight the police are holding the mob in their own district.

NOTES FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

TRIEST—Both American squadrons have left this port. Of the sick officers, Lieuts. Clement and Hudgins are in a serious condition, the former being almost hopeless. All others are doing well. The battleship squadron will proceed home after touching Gibraltar, and the cruiser squadron will cruise in the English channel and later drill in the western Mediterranean.

NAGARTSE, Tibet—The Tibetan peace delegates met the British mission and professed a willingness to arrange peace if the commission would return to Gyangtse. Col. Younghusband replied that he could only make peace at Lhassa, but that he was willing to discuss terms while proceeding.

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador—Owing to a disagreement between President Plaza and Gen. Flavio Alfaro, secretary of war and a candidate for the presidency of the republic, the latter has resigned his portfolio. Gen. Rafael Arellano has been appointed to succeed Gen. Alfaro.

COPENHAGEN—It now transpires that the illness of King Christian is not serious. He has left Schwerin for Copenhagen.

TROLLEY CAR VICTIM MAY DIE.

Frank Wilkinson, Auditor of American Spirits Company, Injured at Peoria.

Peoria, Ill., July 24.—[Special.]—Frank Wilkinson, auditor of the American Spirits Manufacturing company, received injuries which probably will prove fatal, by falling beneath a street car this afternoon. Both legs were mangled below the knees and amputation was resorted to in an attempt to save his life. The shock was so severe that the attending physicians hold out but scant hopes for his recovery.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 24.—Five hundred passengers had an almost miraculous escape on a Baltimore and Ohio excursion train today. The engine turned over on its side and the coaches toppled on the edge of an embankment, but did not go over. Many of the passengers were badly shaken up, but none seriously hurt.

The Building of a Great Business.

THERE must be a worthy object and a sound policy, and in just such degree as each is broad and fair will a business grow from small to great volume—bounded only by the measure of public confidence it is able to create.

OUR OBJECT is more comprehensive than the mere buying and selling of merchandise. We aim to win a merchandising success here broader and better than that resulting from prices alone. We aim to win public confidence as reliable merchants selling dependable goods.

Every sale, and every salesman or woman and every day, must either establish or strengthen that confidence. While the building—the superior stocks—the organization must each, in time, be the best of their kind, they are most useful to us as they contribute towards our object:

"The steady developing of this "business into a great commercial "institution, honored everywhere "for its integrity—a credit to the "city and a lasting witness to the "character of our work."

OUR POLICY is to have an inviting, convenient building.

—To receive visitors courteously.

—To make only proper and conservative statements about our merchandise.

—To have our stocks representative, in volume and assortment, of the entire world's best thought and manufacture.

—To make our prices always the lowest.

—To be quick and willing in the exchanging of purchases, or in any of the other transactions involving the accommodation of our customers.

—To have each day show an improvement in the carrying-out of this policy.

For our policy is not intended to be a mere matter of policy, but a day-by-day effort in the attaining of our object, namely: "The building of a great business."

At the start we aimed only to reduce the stock on display—which was thousands of dollars too high. Success of the sale has prompted us to make a clean sweep—of warehouse surplus as well as house stock at import cost of the rugs. Every size in which large rugs are made—from 5 feet by 9 feet up to 14 feet by 22 feet, is represented in this collection of rich Oriental rugs

Entire "S. & M." stock of domestic rugs is also on sale at cost, for immediate clearance.

A RECKLESS TRAIN CREW.

Some of the testimony given before the coroner's jury which is investigating the excursion train wreck at Glenwood is painfully interesting. It shows how recklessly railroad rules are disobeyed by employes and the calm way in which they can sit around and discuss with mild regret the probable immediate happening of a great disaster.

The operator at Glenwood says that when the freight train passed there going north, "my red board, meaning danger, and to stop, was out, but the train went right past and never stopped." Where were the engineer's eyes? Soon after he saw the freight engine and coal cars approaching his station from Thornton, on the south track, and he handed the trainman a copy of an order to get the cars off the south track on the siding as soon as possible. Then the trainman and engineer got off the train and disputed about orders previously given, instead of obeying the last, imperative one. The operator says he reminded the men that the excursion train was coming, but they did not answer him. A few minutes later, while he was taking another order for the train crew, and they were attempting, too late, to get the cars off the track, "I saw a cloud of dust, but heard no noise. I opened the key and told the dispatcher that the trains had come together."

The operator at Thornton says he told the conductor of the freight train not to leave there without orders. He said he would not. He came back in ten minutes and said that his engineer and brakeman had taken the train down the road about a mile, out of sight. Just then the operator was notified that the excursion train was coming along on the south track, the one the freight train was on.

The conductor began growling about the behavior of the engineer. Said he: "That engineer backed down there without an order from me. He has no right there, and I do not see why he left here." Then the conductor and operator discussed the last order, and the former said how terrible it would be if the excursion train should hit the freight. It did a few minutes later.

If there are many train crews like the one whose misconduct has been described to the coroner's jury the wonder is that there are not more wrecks.

IDLENESS AT JOLIET.

Greed up on its toes and the law down on its back, and the wards of the state surrendered to physical and mental disease—surely Illinois cannot survey this prospect with calm eyes!

The constitutional amendment of 1886 was explicit enough. It provided that convict labor should not be let out by contract. Illinois supposed that it had seen the last of the prison contractor who brought his cheap convict labor into successful competition with the free labor of the outside world.

And the prison contractor did vanish. But the prison piece work employer appeared. He was the prison contractor with another name and the same smell. By collusion with the authorities he employed convicts not under contract—contracts would have been too illegal—but under a system by which the convict was paid by the piece.

In 1903 Illinois thought that it would give the prison piece work employer a taste of the medicine which in 1886 it had given the prison contractor. It therefore passed a law providing that the product of prison labor should be sold only to the public institutions or to the political divisions of the state. The sum of $400,000 was appropriated for necessary changes in the labor apparatus of the penitentiaries.

The prison piece work employer then showed the pertinacity characteristic of only the highest forms of altruism or the lowest forms of selfishness. An appeal was made to the courts. The courts issued an injunction restraining the officials of the Joliet penitentiary from proceeding to act under the new law. The injunction is temporary. But it is binding. It prevents action till at least Sept. 15, when a formal hearing will be held. More than seven weeks must elapse before the law will be in a position to declare itself on a subject of immediate importance.

That the subject is really one of immediate importance became apparent when the sick call was sounded at Joliet a week ago today. That call usually brings out from eight to twelve men. A week ago today it brought out 300. Idleness had done its work. "This enforced idleness in Joliet," said Dr. Fletcher, the penitentiary physician, "will not only burden the state with a great increase in the number of its criminal insane patients but will breed among our convicts here the germs not only of minor ailments but of lasting and death dealing diseases. I refer particularly to tuberculosis."

Idleness resulting in mental and physical disease is, therefore, the punishment which Illinois is today meting out to lawbreakers at Joliet. No crime can be so heinous as to deserve such punishment. Further, no state with an eye toward its own financial obligations and toward the future morale and physique of its population can afford to mete out any such punishment to men who are likely to continue to live within its boundaries. The 15th of September may seem close at hand to judges. It seems a long way off to men who are chewing their nails in cells.

During these seven weeks of horror Illinois will do well to meditate on prison labor. Great changes must soon be made.

A REPUBLICAN AUXILIARY.

The republican stump speakers will state at great length during the campaign reasons why voters should support the presidential candidate of that party. Their hearers, as a rule, will be none but republicans, and the strong points they may make will simply confirm republicans in the faith. Those speakers do a useful work, but the party needs also some one to whom democrats will listen who will reveal fearlessly all the weak points of the candidate of his own party. Such a man may be able to win over to the support of the republican nominee democrats whom republican spellbinders are unable to get at.

Usually it is almost impossible for a party to get such an auxiliary. The republicans are fortunate enough this year to have one in Mr. William J. Bryan. They could not fare better, because nobody can allege that he has been hired by them or that anything beyond a high sense of duty urges him to lay bare what he regards as the objectionable features of Judge Parker's candidacy.

Democrats, like republicans, are against trusts. Where they feel strongly about the matter they may be inclined to give their votes to a candidate not of their own party, who is fighting trusts, instead of to a party nominee who is friendly to them.

Democrats are familiar with the war President Roosevelt has waged on trusts. Mr. Bryan tells them that Judge Parker's nomination "virtually nullifies the anti-trust plank of the party." Is that calculated to make votes for Parker or for Roosevelt?

Mr. Bryan speaks of "the financial influence" back of Judge Parker, which may tie his hands regarding some matters. There are many democrats who may not relish the idea of voting for a candidate who is said to be influenced by capital. They know President Roosevelt is not. They know that great financiers pleaded with him and threatened him when he ordered suit begun against the Northern Securities company, but could not influence him. Mr. Bryan says also that the nomination of Judge Parker was a triumph for "the Wall street element of the party"—for "the plutocrats." It is known that Wall street did not nominate Mr. Roosevelt.

Will these assertions make more votes for Parker or for Roosevelt among those democrats who believe that Wall street is the abomination of abominations and who are persuaded Mr. Bryan is telling the truth?

That gentleman is not a republican, but he seems to be doing more for the party than he would if he belonged to it, for democrats listen to him.

END THE CAUSELESS DELAYS.

The representatives of the City railway company protest against the council committee's request for a prompt answer regarding the proposed traction ordinance. They would have the matter wait on the decision of the stockholders, not to be made until September. The council committee is determined that the ordinance must be submitted to a popular vote before it becomes operative.

The ordinance must assume definite shape now, in order that it may be thoroughly discussed before it is passed upon by the people, shortly after the council convenes in the fall. The people want to know whether the liberal proposition made by their representatives will be accepted by the City railway company or not. There is no need of further negotiation and argument. The matter has been gone over by both sides. There is no new light to be thrown on the subject. The time has come for the City railway company to decide. The action of the city must depend upon that decision.

Mr. Bliss' protest savors of procrastination. It is disingenuous. It suggests an inclination to tire out the city's representatives by pettifogging negotiations. He protests not against the terms which the city offers but against the council committee's demand for a prompt answer. Nothing is to be gained for the City railway company by delay which will cost the city much in service and compensation due it for the use of its streets.

Protest not too much.

CARD PARTIES AT MEMPHIS.

The mayor of Memphis intimates that in his city women play for prizes of considerable value when they meet together in the absence of their husbands and brothers, and that if gambling is to be stopped in Memphis it will be necessary to extend the law over both sexes.

The mayor does not say that he has ever known of a woman's breaking her employer's till in order to stake the contents at a euchre party. He does not say that he has known of many euchre parties that led to insolvency and suicide. He does not say that whole city departments take whole afternoons off in order to go and watch euchre parties. He knows, of course that all these things—theft, insolvency, suicide, and neglect of civic duty—are frequent consequences of the kind of gambling that prevails among men. He chooses to heighten the risk of proceeding against masculine gambling by hinting at the simultaneous necessity of giving feminine gambling a little notice.

Well and good. Let the mayor of Memphis raid a few euchre parties and come away with cards, pencils, puckered foreheads, tearful eyes, and other feminine gambling paraphernalia. Memphis can give up euchre in order to get rid of certain other things. And it would be worth while to give up euchre in this case simply in order to put a stop to the euchre party argument, which municipal officials so often make when they are requested to proceed against faro. The privilege of playing euchre is not a sufficient compensation for having to listen to that argument.

TRADE WITH JAPAN.

The fourth Financial and Economical Annual of Japan gives some interesting figures on the foreign trade of that country. In that trade the United States is assuming the importance which it should have. Within the last decade the imports from this country have increased nearly 800 per cent.

Japan's export trade for 1903 amounted to $144,751,221, the principal items of which were tea, silk, cotton yarns and tissues, coal, copper, and matches. The United States is Japan's largest customer, buying about 30 per cent of her exports. The principal articles of import from Japan to this country are: Tea, $6,071,844; raw silk, $23,509,280; and silk tissues and handkerchiefs, $3,386,321.

For 1903 the leading exporters to Japan and the amounts exported are as follows:

India	$34,947,008	China	$22,729,028
England	24,366,879	Germany	15,479,483
United States	23,136,936

The principal imports from this country to Japan are raw cotton, flour, and petroleum. About 60 per cent of the total trade is in these three commodities. Other articles in which the United States leads, or is a close second, are electric motors, iron pipes and tubes, iron nails, lead (pig, ingot, and slab), paraffin wax, condensed milk, leaf tobacco, bicycles, and locomotive engines. There are a number of articles which the United States should sell to Japan but in the sale of which it lags behind other countries.

In 1890 the total imports of Japan were $40,864,290; in 1903, $158,567,759. In the former year the United States sold Japan $3,000,000, and in the latter $23,000,000. In the same time Great Britain's trade increased from thirteen to twenty-four millions.

Closer trade relations with Japan are desirable for the United States not only because of the increasing demand among the Japanese people for all kinds of modern goods but of the commercial relation which that country will in the future sustain to China. Japanese drummers are penetrating to all parts of the Celestial kingdom and are spreading a desire for western products. Japan will unquestionably become an important manufacturing and jobbing nation with great natural advantages in securing the large share of the future oriental trade. When Japan becomes the England of the east this country should be foremost in its import trade not only in agricultural products but in manufactured goods.

SUNDRY persons who, doubtless, are prejudiced have been heard to express the opinion that the mayor of Memphis is a full grown specimen of the Memphitis Americana.

THOSE soothing, helpful editorials in our exchanges, breathing a deep and intense satisfaction over the "Closing of the Great Strike," are so uniformly good that most of them, we hope, can be used again at the proper time.

MR. BRYAN still has one conspicuous advantage. He can talk faster than Grover Cleveland can write.

WILL the government chemists please inform an anxious people whether there is any scientific reason why breakfast food may not be used also as dinner food?

THE G. Fred Wms. party, according to several trustworthy authorities, has decided that he will not take an active part in this campaign.

THERE is said to be a shortage in the broomcorn crop this year. Evidently the broom handles will have to be made longer.

THE editor of the Commoner should be grateful to his esteemed contemporaries for the timely service they have rendered in assisting him to dispose of his surplus live stock.

ONCE again the time has come for all good men to rally to the support of the party.

IF ever the democrats succeed in making a platform that is entirely acceptable to the Hon. Bourke Cockran it will be certain to displease Coin Harvey. What's the use?

THE contention is, as we understand it, that the integrity of the elevated structure known as the union loop is threatened by its previous underground work.

IN behalf of Vice Presidential Candidate Davis it may be stated in the most positive manner that the forthcoming rumor as to his being worth $300,000,000 is a gross exaggeration.

MANY good judges consider the Illinois building at the St. Louis exposition the most beautiful of all the state buildings. This partially assuages the pang with which one remembers the Illinois building of 1893.

EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND, as you may have observed, never sidesteps an infinitive. He splits straight through it.

TO BE sure it is costing the Japanese a great deal of money, but it may be assumed that they did not go into the honorable war without counting the honorable cost thereof.

AFTER the strike is over there will be a stern reckoning with somebody for the bass, pickerel, and other constructive fish Mayor Harrison lost in consequence of having to hurry back to Chicago.

"I wonder, now," mused Mr. Scorjel, looking in some perplexity at a memorandum he had pencilled hastily in his notebook, "whether this item about the $10.75 I paid out the other day refers to last month's gas bill or last week's meat bill."

Passing the Lesson On.

The old dog was panting, and little Johnny was watching him.

"Don't you know, Nero," said Johnny, in a tone of grave reproof, "it isn't good for you to breathe through the mouth? First thing you know you'll be having trouble with your throat. Breathe through your nose or I'll spank you!"

Back Action.

"That's the first time I have ever heard anybody say old Hewligus is ignorant and illiterate. I thought he was a man of much learning. He always seems to be absorbed in thought."

"Yes; he uses thought to conceal his language."

And how, when the strikers are striking,
Can the poor consumers consume?

LETTER OF MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

Copyright: 1904: By the Marquise de Fontenoy.

ARCHDUKE OTTO, next brother of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the heir presumptive, and, by reason of the latter's morganatic marriage, second in line of succession to the throne of his uncle, Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, is exceedingly ill. Some two or three months ago he had a sort of paralytic seizure, which rendered him powerless to move, and, after having been confined a number of weeks to his palace in the Augarten, at Vienna, he has now been moved to Rosenburg, in Kaptal, in the hope that the change of air and scene may help towards his recovery. He is entirely helpless, and looks a complete wreck when reclining in the invalid chair in which he takes his daily airing.

If I call attention to this it is because there has been a certain amount of mystery observed in connection with the archduke's illness, of which no official announcement has been made, and, consequently, his prolonged absence from his accustomed haunts at Vienna, and from all court festivities, at which his wife, Archduchess Marie Josefa, has invariably appeared without him during the season which has just come to a close, has given rise to all sorts of stories for which there is no foundation.

Thus, one of them, widely circulated in the European press, was to the effect that his absence from court was due to his having been banished therefrom by the emperor as a punishment for a particularly disgraceful scandal in which the archduke was said to have played the leading rôle at Sacher's restaurant, at Vienna. It was related, with every kind of graphic detail, that the archduke, while supping with a gay crowd of more or less questionable boon companions in a cabinet particulier, had become so inebriated that he had divested himself of all his regimentals save his saber belt and saber, and, thus accoutered, had burst into the public dining room, and had seriously wounded two well known noblemen supping there who had endeavored to grasp hold of him to lead him out of the room and to force him to resume his clothing.

At the time when this scene was said to have occurred the archduke was lying so dangerously ill in his palace that his recovery was doubtful, and was unable to stir from his bed. Unfortunately for the archduke, who is the best looking member of the imperial family, an adept in every branch of sport, and in particular a splendid polo player and steeplechase rider, he has been in the past exceptionally wild, while his matrimonial affairs have on more than one occasion necessitated the intervention of the emperor and attracted the attention of the public in a manner not altogether redounding to his credit.

The Austrian papers have been careful about mentioning the scrapes in which he has been involved. But the Hungarian press has shown no such reticence, and has frequently devoted unfriendly criticism to his escapades. He appealed to his uncle, the emperor, to have the editors of the offending papers indicted for "lese majesty." But Francis Joseph, who cares for this nephew less than for any of the others, declined to permit this, and advised him, if he had any cause for complaint against the proprietors and editors of the Hungarian newspapers to sue them for civil or criminal libel in the ordinary way. This the archduke declined to do.

His eldest son is the prince upon whom all the hopes of the house of Hapsburg and of the Austrian nation are centered. He is a handsome lad of 17 years of age, who is now serving as lieutenant of the First Regiment of Lancers, and who has appeared by his mother's side in lieu of his father at all court festivities and public functions this season at Vienna. He has been brought up entirely under the supervision and direction of the old emperor, who is devoted to him, and the lad enjoys the distinction of having been the first prince of the sovereign house of Hapsburg to have received his early education in the public grammar schools of Vienna, seated on the school benches beside some of the humblest of his future subjects. He is known as Archduke Karl Franz, and is destined one day to become ruler of the dual empire.

Through the recent death of the earl of Stair there have been several changes in the commands of King Edward's body guard for Scotland, Lord Minto being appointed brigadier and Lord Haddington a captain of the corps. The latter, which numbers about 250 men, is said to have been instituted by King James I. of Scotland on his return from captivity in England, and in the history of the battle of Flodden field it is related that the body of the Scottish king was found covered and surrounded by the bodies of his archers guards. The regiment as now constituted was reorganized in 1703 by Queen Anne on the occasion of her visit to Edinburg. In the reign of George IV. the body guard, which is likewise known as the royal company of archers, was wont to appear in a uniform of surpassing ugliness, designed by Sir Walter Scott. But in 1831 the uniform was fortunately changed, and now consists of green tunic embroidered with gold thistles, and faced with green velvet, the privates of the corps being armed with short swords and long bows and arrows.

No one who does not possess landed estates or domicile in Scotland, or who are not the sons of gentlemen holding or having held the office of lord lieutenant or deputy lieutenant of a Scotch county are qualified for membership of the guard, whose present officers comprise the duke of Buccleuch, Lord Rosebery, Lord Wemyss, Lords Home, Elgin, Balfour, Aberdeen, Linlithgow, Tweeddale, the duke of Abercorn, Lord Leven, Lord Colville of Culross, Sir James Ferguson, and the marquis of Breadalbane. The body guards' headquarters are at the Archers' hall in Edinburg, built in 1776, and the first toast given at mess is not "the king," but "the mark," which is drank sitting down.

Lord Haddington is one of the representative peers of Scotland, and owes his honors to the fact that one of his ancestors, the first earl, Sir Thomas Hamilton by name, acted as secretary of state to King James I. of England and Scotland. The present earl is a man over 70 years of age, and his eldest son and heir is Lord Binning, a well known cavalry officer, who commanded for several years the royal horse guards. The patronymic of the family is Baillie-Hamilton, which figures conspicuously in the present as in the past at court, in the army, the navy, and in the civil service of the crown.

King Edward's sister, Princess Christian, with her two daughters, Princess Victoria and Princess Louise of Schleswig-Holstein, are to sail next week for south Africa. The primary object of their trip is to visit the tomb of the late Prince Christian Victor at Pretoria, who succumbed to enteric fever during the course of the Boer war, in which he served on the staff of Lord Roberts. Prince Christian Victor was the eldest son of Princess Christian and a particular favorite of his grandmother, the late Queen Victoria, his death having been a great blow to her, which undoubtedly contributed to hasten her end.

The three princesses will make quite an extensive tour trough south Africa before returning to England, and I hear in this connection that several members of the king's family circle will seek rest and change during the coming winter outside the limit of European waters.

Whether this means that any of them are coming to America it is difficult as yet to say.

But I should doubt it for the reason that considerable resentment has been created at court in England by the utterances of the members of the present administration in Canada in connection with the dismissal of Lord Dundonald from the command of the dominion militia, and while the members of the royal family feel that they cannot well visit America without going to Canada, they do not care at the present juncture to be brought into contact with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues, who profess to regard the people of the mother country, if not as "foreigners," at any rate, as "strangers."

Real High Finance.

[From the Somerville (Mass.) Journal.]

Hicks—"I've got to borrow $200 somewhere."

Wicks—"Take my advice and borrow $300 while you are about it."

Hicks—"But I only need $200."

Wicks—"That doesn't make any difference. Borrow $300 and pay back $100 of it in two installments at intervals of a month or so. Then the man that you borrow from will think that he is going to get the rest of it."

Sermons in Song.

"Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun."—Ecclesiastes xi., 7.

The sunshine and the gentle rain,
The clear bird song that hails the morn,
The meadow land with flower stain,
The swaying banners of the corn,
The grass that whispers to the breeze—
What common, common things are these!

The broad, blue mirror of the lake
That smiles back at the sleeping sky;
The billows, too, that leap and break
And fling their foamy jewels high;
The silver clouds that one by one
Toss back the lances of the sun;

The stars that blaze as jewels blaze,
And make the world old mystery,
While they, on their appointed ways,
Go speeding through eternity
Across unfathomed seas of space
On paths that we but dimly trace—

All these are common—brook and bird,
And rose of red, and meadow green;
So common that they seem unheard,
So common that they seem unseen,
And yet there is no day or night
But borrows all of their delight.

No common thing is held apart
From us, or pent with lock and key,
But in the goodness of His heart
They all are made for you and me.
It always seems God loves the best
The things he makes the commonest.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

"Buster Brown" made three bows to the Chicago public yesterday with "Tige." One was in the comic supplement of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE and the other two were before audiences at the Great Northern theater.

Master Gabriel and George All returned with their impersonations of R. F. Outcault's good natured, mischievous, comic supplement boy and his faithful colaborer in the fields of mischief. Two big houses were delighted with the results of their endeavors.

A bit of love, some politics, considerable vaudeville, with pretty songs and dancing have been used as interludes in the succession of jokes originating in Buster's fertile mind and executed by him and Tige. This combination produces a "musical comedy" which fills three hours with amusement. For a play which makes no pretensions to a plot it manages to develop a more consistent story than many a musical comedy which endeavors to tell one.

Children were plentifully sprinkled through the audiences, especially that for the matinée, and their applause showed the popularity which the comic supplement Buster has with the small readers.

The faithfulness with which Master Gabriel and George All have succeeded in reproducing Buster and Tige is remarkable. Both look their parts to perfection and both act them as if they had stepped out of Outcault's drawings and suddenly had become animated.

The stage Buster is a bit more knowing than the comic supplement Buster. He is a bit more on terms of equality with the men, he knows a bit more of their slang and of their ways, but it is just a bit of a difference. In all essential respects it is the same Buster.

Tige hasn't quite the nimbleness of the comic supplement Tige. He would have trouble in catching a real cat. But he has all the bull and all the willingness to aid and abet Buster in any designs which he can formulate.

It does not detract anything from the value of the pranks that the audience knows beforehand just what is coming. When Buster prepares Tige with foam on his muzzle the audience appreciates that this is where grandmother gets the scare of her life from a mad dog, but the interest in the scene is only greater because of this.

The best known of the Buster Brown pranks are presented, and in such a form as to portray a story. Buster is endeavoring to earn $5 from his father for convincing grandmother she ought to go home, and $15 for aiding him in avoiding the nomination for mayor of Brownsville and getting it for Jack Wynn, who must have it to win his sweetheart.

Thus the series of comic supplement pranks has a motive, and a plot is developed. The aid of Tige is secured by promised bribes of dog biscuits.

"Tige," says Buster, "did you ever think of $15 worth of dog biscuits at six for a nickel?"

Tige has a canine fit of supreme joy at the thought, and it is sufficient to bribe him to kiss his grandmother. She begins making up her mind right there that home is the place for her.

Buster has his resolutions. Instead of coming on bulletin boards they come in songs. The only thing he doesn't get on the stage that he regularly gets in the supplement is the punishment which develops his cheerful code of philosophy.

With the large audiences Buster and Tige made the same big hit that they made on the first visit.

Royal Chef.

"The Royal Chef" came into its own last night at the Garrick. After its several months' successful run at the La Salle in spite of the restrictions of its environment it has now come back to the public tricked out in dainty attire and expanded into a pretentious entertainment.

The restaging of the musical comedy is particularly effective. The choruses in dainty and harmonious costumes are artistically arranged and last night the whole show went with a snap and vim too often missing from first nights. Miss Stella Tracey, a new acquisition to the cast, as an Irish maid, was adopted into the affections of the audience along with the old time favorites. She made a hit with the O'Reilly song, which was given with a pretty choral accompaniment. She also did some clever imitations of Blanche Ring, Fay Templeton, and Eddie Foy.

The "old Mother Goose" song by Helen Dale, with its coryphees flitting about as witches on brooms, was another captivating bit, as was also "What's the Matter with the Man in the Moon," sung by Florence Holbrook and chorus.

Dave Lewis came back to his admirers with new clothes and some new jokes and Henry Leone was a magnificent Rajah of Oolong.

Free Ice Fund Benefit.

The benefit performance for THE TRIBUNE free ice fund, which will be given Thursday afternoon, Aug. 4, at the Grand Opera house, is going to be crowded with more entertainment than any other stage offering this summer. Not only will people help the sick babies of Chicago by patronizing this show, but they will get more for their money than they can at any theater in town. All the players in the city have manifested their eagerness to contribute to the entertainment, and several are at work on new specialties for the occasion. Miss Blanche Ring will sing a new song, and Master Gabriel as Buster Brown has promised to pull off a few stunts not down on the cards. War and Neutrality in Far East.

Expert on International Law Explains Rights of Other Powers in Clash Between Russia and Japan.

"WAR and Neutrality in the Far East" is a little book just handed to the public by T. J. Lawrence, lecturer on international law at the British naval college at Greenwich. It is not a history of the war between Russia and Japan, but rather a discussion of the principles of neutrality.

The book answers questions which every reader of newspapers is now asking himself:

1. Was Japan justified in beginning war upon Russia?
2. Did Japan show treachery in attacking the Russian fleet on the night of Feb. 8?
3. Has Russia the right to search neutral ships in the Red sea?
4. What is contraband of war? What are the rights of belligerents and neturals in regard to it?
5. Are coals, provisions, and cotton contraband of war?
6. What are the duties of neutral governments with regard to trade in ships?
7. Are mail steamers privileged?
8. Did Japan violate Corean neutrality?

These are the questions in which the world at large is interested. They affect the United States, because this country at any hour is likely to be affected by them. The seizure of one steamer loaded with provisions shipped from Chicago to Japan—and the Pacific is dotted with steamers, all loaded with Chicago products—would bring the question home to every citizen of the United States.

How the Quarrel Began.

In answering the first question Prof. Lawrence reviews briefly the diplomatic events which followed the close of the war between Japan and China in 1895. Japan began that war to free Corea from Chinese domination. Japan succeeded, and when China had been defeated and humiliated Japan was in possession of Port Arthur and the entire Liaotung peninsula.

Russia, backed by Germany and France, compelled Japan to give up Port Arthur. Thereupon Russia took Port Arthur for herself.

From that day forward Japan began to prepare for the inevitable war. The mikado's government gave Russia an opportunity to avoid the war by laying down the broad principle that Corea's independence should not be infringed upon or menaced by the encroachments of either Japan or Russia.

Russia declined to accept the principle, and in 1900 occupied the whole of Manchuria with her troops. In the same year Russia attempted to seize a naval station at Masampo. Failing she secured immense concessions to cut timber on the Yalu and Tumen rivers, and on the strength of these concessions claimed the right to construct railways and telegraphs and to build fortifications on Corean soil.

Japan Forced Into War.

"There could be little doubt," says Prof. Lawrence, "that the Corean side of the lower Yalu was marked down for Russian settlement; and experience shows that Russian settlement means much the same thing as Russian rule."

Japan protested and in 1903 opened negotiations with Russia in the hope of reaching a satisfactory agreement. These negotiations failed. Russia would make no concession and started Admiral Wirenius with a large squadron to reinforce the Port Arthur fleet. Japan took the alarm, broke off diplomatic negotiations on Feb. 6 of the present year, and two days later began the war.

Did Japan Act Treacherously?

Turning to the next question, "Did Japan act treacherously in beginning the war on the night of Feb. 8, without a formal declaration of war?" Prof. Lawrence says:

"The accusation of treachery rests entirely upon the assumption that international law imposes upon belligerents the duty of making to one another a formal declaration of war before commencing hostilities. Never was assumption more groundless. Nearly every war of the last two centuries has been commenced without a declaration.

"The constant practice has been for the better prepared state to strike a sudden blow at her unready adversary.

"Nor is there in this anything that necessarily involves bad faith. A period of negotiation precedes a period of hostility. As relations grow more and more strained a prudent state prepares for eventualities. Often an ultimatum is presented, that is to say, a demand, the refusal of which will be followed by war.

Declaration Not Necessary.

"The rupture of diplomatic relations is the constant precursor of armed conflict.

"Unless the first blow falls, like a bolt from the blue, in a period of profound peace, without previous complaint and demand for redress, there is nothing in it which so savors of treachery."

Prof. Lawrence quotes figures to show that, in the history of modern wars, Great Britain has struck thirty of these sudden blows without a formal declaration of war, France thirty-six, Russia herself seven, Prussia seven, Austria twelve, and the United States five. Concluding his answer to the question, Prof. Lawrence says:

"We must acquit Japan of the charge made against her. Instead of being guilty of a violation of international law she went beyond it by giving her adversary ample notice of what he might expect. The note delivered Feb. 6 not only broke off diplomatic intercourse—an act which is constantly followed by immediate war—but also expressly stated that Japan must take such measures as she thought fit for her own safety. The merest tyro in diplomacy knows what this meant.

Russia in the Red Sea.

Prof. Lawrence wrote of the rights of belligerent cruisers in the Red sea so long before the recent incident of the seizure of the steamer brought Great Britain and Russia to the verge of war almost within forty-eight hours that his discussion of the subject is less interesting than otherwise it would have been.

He shows, however, that the Russian admiral, Wirenius, clearly violated the laws of neutrality in remaining in the gulf of Suez and seizing British ships laden with coal. Great Britain quietly protested and Russia released the captured ships and recalled the fleet to the Baltic.

What Is Contraband of War?

What is contraband of war? This is a perplexing question. Prof. Lawrence draws up a list of articles over which there can be no question. The list includes such articles as small arms of every kind, guns, ammunition, explosives, artillery, engineering and camp equipment, field kitchens, forges, pontoons, bridge trestles, barbed wire, harness, military clothing, boilers, and every kind of naval machinery, every kind of fuel, and generally everything intended for warfare by sea and land, including rice, provisions, and horses.

"Are coals, provisions, and cotton contraband of war? This is another perplexing question. In 1884 Russia and France declared that coal could under no circumstances be regarded as contraband of war. Great Britain and the United States hold that coal is contraband when destined for naval or military use. Japan holds coal to be contraband only when it is caught on the way to the war vessels of the enemy or a hostile port. Germany insists that coal on the way to an enemy's port.

When the present war began Russia changed front and declared coal to be contraband. Under this rule a cargo of coal proceeding from an English port for the use of the civilian population of Tokio is subject to capture—just as much so as if it was consigned to the Japanese naval depot at Nagasaki.

Are Provisions Contraband?

On the question of provisions Russia has changed front. In 1884 Russia exempted provisions from the list of articles contraband in war. Now Russia seizes provisions consigned to any person in Japan if she can. Japan takes the moderate course. Thus, at the beginning of the war the Japanese seized American steamers laden with canned meat and other provisions on their way to Port Arthur and Vladivostok. Clearly these cargoes were destined for warlike purposes. On the other hand, Japan discriminates and exempts cargoes of provisions destined for civilian use.

Prof. Lawrence shows that Great Britain and the United States refuse to admit Russia's claim that provisions are contraband under all circumstances. He says:

"It is a matter of life and death for us to prevent any change in international law which shall make the food of the civilian population undoubtedly contraband, and if arguments and protests will not do it, force must.

Would Involve United States.

"Should the use of force be necessary we are not likely to stand alone. Our kinsmen of the United States are with us heart and soul in the doctrine that foodstuffs are not contraband unless destined for warlike use, and they are prepared to enforce it at all risks.

"It is highly probable that if in time of war with France and Germany American cargoes bound for Liverpool were captured on the high seas the stars and stripes would soon wave side by side with the union jack over the fleets which swept the commerce destroyers from the ocean.

"Has a belligerent a right to search a mail steamer? Prof Lawrence says yes. He points out, however, that the United States exempts from search the public mails of any neutral power when sealed and authenticated.

A Cherry Luncheon—

Presents a pretty picture and may be literally formed of cherries. While the newer table decorations includes four slender vases of flowers in a large square on the table the older fashioned centerpiece lends itself best to the cherry luncheon. A large, low, and realistic looking basket is filled with the natural fruit, and their leaves, some overflowing to the table from a lapping side.

The tiniest of wicker baskets filled with cherries and looped with ruddy scarlet ribbon, to which are attached the name cards are found at the individual places.

Tempting for a warm noon is this menu:

Cold cherry soup.
Lobster cream. Radish rosebuds.
Broiled lamb cutlets. Cherry sauce.
New green peas.
Cherries en mayonnaise.
Frozen cherries. Sponge drops.
Cherry cup. Candied cherries.

CHERRY SAUCE.—With a pint of water cover one pint cherries, add two pounded cloves and simmer; when the cherries are soft rub through a sieve, return to the fire, add a teaspoon flour blended in one tablespoon butter, one-quarter teaspoon salt, and cook five minutes. Stir in the juice of one lemon and two tablespoons claret. Serve hot.

CHERRY SALAD.—Wash, remove stalks and stone from one pint large cherries. Be careful to bruise the fruit as little as possible. Place in each cherry a hazelnut kernal to preserve the form. Chill, arrange in little heart leaves of lettuce, and pour over a cream mayonnaise tinted the palest of greens.

CHERRY CUP.—Put in a bowl one pint cherries, stoned and bruised, the juice of three lemons, the grated rind of one lemon, and one cup granulated sugar. Cover, let stand one hour or longer, add one quart water, strain through a vegetable press and pass through cheesecloth. Add one pint claret and set on ice. Serve in punch glasses with handles, add to each one spoon shaved ice, a few fine cherries cut small, and a sprig of green borage.

Will you kindly inform me if proper to ask for an evening by note, and, if so, does etiquette demand any special form of writing?" There would be no impropriety in your writing the girl a note, although the better way is to have an invitation come from her mother. Address her in the note by her given name or surname, according as you are accustomed to address her in school, and then tell her that since vacation is here you have no opportunity to meet her in the schoolroom and if her evenings are not all engaged would like to call some time at her home—next Thursday (or some other day) at 8:30, if that would be agreeable to her. She may or she may not care for you, but I suspect she is pretty much of a tease and a little rude. Pleasant Summer Shopping. It is remarkably cool and pleasant in this store, even on the hottest days. The circulation of the air through the store is ideal. The two great light and air wells, extending from the first floor to the roof, are surrounded at the top by numerous large ventilators, thus making a constant current of air up through every floor. As a further means of perfect ventilation, the air is drawn from all inclosed places in the store through concealed channels and expelled above the roof by three large rotary fans. A 12-foot rotary fan and a separate system of flues and ventilators maintain a constant circulation of pure, fresh air in the Basement Salesroom. Thus an abundance of pure, fresh air finds ready ingress, to which the wide aisles, high ceilings and the low fixtures permit a free distribution to every part of the store.

Altogether the temperature in the store is many degrees lower than in the shade outside. Pure double-filtered and chilled drinking water is supplied at many fountains on every floor. Intelligent and experienced salespeople add largely to the comfort and pleasure of making purchases during the hot weather season. Our assortments of summer goods are carefully maintained. NEW YORK TAKES THE LAST GAME.

National League Leaders Make It Three Out of Four from Colts.

HUGE CROWD IS ON HAND.

Necessary to Reach Grounds an Hour in Advance to Secure Seats.

For a fraction of yesterday afternoon it looked as if Chicago's Colts were going to fracture their record and win a game before an overflow crowd in the closing fracas with the New York Giants. Then the tide turned and victory floated into New York's grasp by the score of 6 to 4.

Aside from the fact that McGraw's men won, tightening their hold on the lead, the game could not have been made better for the immense throng of fans which gathered to see it. It was brimming with uncertainty and surprises, and the thousands who stood and rubbered to the snapping point for over two hours felt well repaid for their trouble. Any one who viewed the game from a seat had to occupy it for three hours or more, for by 2 o'clock, an hour before the scrap was called, practically all the seating capacity was exhausted, except in the sun bleachers, and shortly after the spectators began overflowing on to the field, which they surrounded many rows deep. Late comers were fortunate to find a spot in which they could even get a glimpse of the battle.

Start Chicago's Way.

Weimer and Ames were hooked up at the start, and things started all Chicago's way. Jake held the Giants at bay for five innings, during which they could get only one run for their efforts, and in that time the Colts had profited by their hits and Ames' weakness on bunts to the extent of four runs. The visitors began landing on Weimer hard in the sixth, and almost tied up the game right there. This prompted McGraw to switch gunners, and McGinnity was called in to stop the Colts. He did it effectually, although the fans, recollecting the pudding he proved for Selee's men on Thursday, licked their chops with glee at the prospect of a feast of rooting when they saw him enter the arena.

More Giant hits in the seventh put two runs over the board and sent New York into the lead. Manager Selee retired Weimer here and sent Wicker to the rescue, in the hope the Colts would make a strong finish, but the hope proved false, and the Giants added one run to their margin off Bob in the ninth.

Add to Their Lead.

Slagle opened the battle for the Colts with a clean single, was sacrificed to second by Casey, made third on a short passed ball, and scored the first tally on McCarthy's safe popup back of Gilbert. The second round was mighty promising, because Evers opened it with a double into the crowd, but after he had been sacrificed to third he allowed himself to be cut down on Barry's grounder to Dahlen, and Weimer fanned.

Slagle led off again in the third with a single and when Casey bunted Ames fumbled it ingloriously. Chance bunted, too, and was safe because not a Giant covered first base. McCarthy once more popped a little one over the infield, which scored two tallies. Kling forced him at second and, after Chance had been nailed at the plate on Evers' little push to Ames, Tinker fanned.

Not until the fifth could the Giants find the hole in Weimer's runproof armor. Then Jake's first pass was turned into a run by two hits following it. The Colts got this one back in their half without a hit. Warner was ejected from the stage by Emslie for kicking on a ball, and Bowerman took his place. Chance worked Ames for a pass, was sacrificed to second, and when he started for third Bowerman threw wild, letting the captain home. That was the last tally for Chicago. McGinnity took charge of the game and checked up the home fellows hard.

Weimer Loses His Grip.

With two Giants dead in the sixth Weimer apparently lost his grip, for two singles, a double, and a wild pitch followed, giving New York two runs. That left a margin of one run only, but Jake went back in the seventh and lost out, after two Giants were disposed of again. A base on balls, two singles, and a double counted two at the plate, and New York was one to the good.

Wicker shut them out in the eighth, but in the ninth Browne's double, Devlin's bunt, and a long fly to Slagle made the Giants' total an even half dozen. Score:

Notes of the Colts' Game.

Cincinnati will come today for six games in a row.

The Giants left for the east last night with three out of four scalps from Chicago.

McCarthy batted in three of Chicago's runs and materially assisted in the fourth with a sacrifice.

Slagle found no difficulty with either pitcher, getting three hits off Ames and one off McGinnity in five attempts.

Mertes played the last three games suffering with lumbago, but the absence of Bresnahan made it impossible to give him a rest.

President Hart announced that Friday would be children's day, and all children under 5 feet 2 inches tall would be admitted free.

The only game of the series which Chicago won was before the smallest crowd of the four, on Friday. Perhaps if the weather man had kept down the attendance the Colts might have taken all four.

The Colts finished this series against the eastern clubs with eleven victories and five defeats out of sixteen games. New York won ten and lost six, giving Chicago a gain of one game only on the leaders during their swing around the circuit.

President Hart admitted he considered it safe to claim that the aggregate attendance for this New York series would exceed that for any other series of four ever played between two clubs, and it rained just before Friday's game, at that.

The Giants threatened to break through in the fourth, when one clean hit and two scratch singles filled the bases with one out, but Weimer staved off defeat in grand fashion by blanking his opponents. Fortune deserted him after that round, however.

Estimates of the attendance varied widely, and the club officials, according to time honored custom, declined to make any statement other than that the crowd was larger than Saturday's. It seemed as if every possible viewpoint was filled on Saturday, but the great circle was thicker yesterday all the way around the field.

CINCINNATI DEFEATS BOSTON.

Reds Get Six Runs in the First Inning on Four Bases on Balls and Five Singles.

Cincinnati, O., July 24.—Four bases on balls and five singles netted the Cincinnatis six runs in the first inning. The handicap proved too much for the Bostons, who took things easy thereafter. Hahn held the Bostons safe throughout. Dolan retired in the seventh because of the sudden illness of his child, Kelley going to right and Peitz to first. Attendance, 6,057. Score:

Detroit, Mich., July 24.—[Special.]—Manager Barrow has resigned his position with the Detroit ball team and the resignation has been accepted. It is reported that manager and proprietor part on good terms. Others say Barrow got his ticket of leave before the team went away on its present tour and was offered a check for $700 in payment of all claims. The players, it is said, do not like Barrow. Bobby Lowe, captain of the team, will act as manager.

SPLENDID RECORD OF WHITE SOX.

Eleven Victories Out of Sixteen Games Played Away from Home.

SUNDAY REST IN GOTHAM.

Rain Keeps the Players Indoors; Last with Highlanders Today.

New York, July 24.—[Special.]—The White Stockings are resting on their laurels today, thoroughly satisfied with themselves and the world in general. Such a run of fortune as they have experienced since they left home, bar that one snag—the Athletics—they have seldom if ever known. Eleven victories out of sixteen games played, and all away from home, is a record of which Comiskey's men are justly proud.

The team is playing great ball, taking every advantage that offers and making the most of the mistakes of its opponents.

Sunday in New York usually is a busy day for a bunch of ball players, for there are so many places of amusement—principally, of course, Coney Island. But today a steady, cold rain has fallen, and few of the men ventured out from beneath the roof of their hotel. Jones went to Brooklyn to see friends and Davis spent the day at his home. The rest of the men slept, ate, and fanned about their success and probable chance of getting home in first place. Unless it rains all night there will be little chance of tomorrow's game being interfered with. The Washington Heights grounds are hard and well drained, drying rapidly if given half a chance.

Clark Griffith will take another crack at his old teammates in this final game of the series, hoping to get at least one from the fast White Sox. Frank Smith, who did such beautiful work the day Altrock was knocked out of the box, will be his opponent. They should have a battle royal.

Tomorrow night the Chicago bunch moves on to Boston for the final series of the trip.

LONG GAME BY SEMI-PROS.

GUNTHERS AND WEST ENDS BATTLE FOR FOURTEEN INNINGS.

Clever Playing of Lynch Contributes to the Victory of the Candy Makers, as the Shortstop, Besides Great Fielding, Steals Two Bases in the Final Inning—Auroras and Union Giants Fail to Settle Their Differences Until the Thirteenth.

The Gunthers and West Ends, semi-professional teams, played a fourteen inning game yesterday afternoon at the West Ends' park, the Gunthers winning by a score of 11 to 10.

Three thousand people saw the contest, which aroused great enthusiasm, especially as both teams played good ball. A feature of the contest was a switch in pitchers, Munch, formerly of the Gunthers, appearing for the West Ends, and Keeley, formerly of the west side team, pitching for the Gunthers.

Keeley got a trimming in the fifth, but after that pitched effectively, while Munch was batted hard in the sixth and eighth. There was fine fielding on both sides, that of Lynch at short being especially notable. In the fourteenth Lynch hit safely, stole second and third, and scored on Riley's single. Score:

"SCRAP" AT LACROSSE GAME.

Detroit No Match for Calumets in Playing, but Make It Lively in Other Ways.

Detroit proved no match for the Calumets of Chicago at lacrosse yesterday, the visitors being scored against eight times without once even remotely threatening the local players' goal, and the contest finishing with the score 8 to 0 in favor of Chicago. About 1,000 lacrosse enthusiasts were on hand and they saw a listless contest except in the last quarter, when Morrison gave an exhibition of how not to play the game that furnished lots of excitement until the referee brought the one sided exhibition to an end by a wall from the pocket concertina he used in place of a whistle.

The mêlée started in the last quarter, when Paddy Walsh, a small and wiry Irishman from Detroit, became a little too energetic in restraining the impetuous Morrison. Morrison turned on his attacker, seizing him by the neck, and tried to show the Detroiter a short cut along the lines of gravity off the field. They were parted by a clever flying wedge attack of the red shirt brigade from Michigan, the ferocious little Irishman being carried to the outer edge of the whirlpool of arguers, where he spied an inoffensive photographer getting a splendid snapshot of him, with the "look pleasant, please," part missing. He made a wild swing at the man and machine, which would have been good for a Detroit goal on the field.

In the same quarter Barrett was felled by a blow on the back of the head, and Mooney, a visitor, received a badly cut hand.

Sewell was the scorer of every goal, but one. The remaining goal was kicked in by McDowell, a Detroiter, an unnecessary contribution, however. The game itself was a poor exhibition. The visitors had not been on the field for a month and were in no shape to play. In every department the home men outclassed them. Four fifteen minute quarters were played. The lineup:

KEEP COLTS UNDER COVER

LITTLE KNOWN ABOUT RELATIVE ABILITY OF TWO YEAR OLDS.

Local Season Never Before So Far Advanced Without a Better Line on the Speed of the Younger Division—Thursday's Stake at Hawthorne May Afford a Clew—Harlem Presents a Number of Fixtures Later in the Season That May Help.

It is to be hoped the owners of the good 2 year olds that are now quartered on the Chicago tracks may stop the policy that has prevailed thus far this season of avoiding sending their good charges to the post in the same race. Never has the local season advanced so far without a more satisfactory line on the relative merits of the youngsters. Luzarion, Kurtzman, Jack Lory, The Mist, Flaxman, Miss Inez—they are all here and all eligible for the Competition stakes at five and a half furlongs, which is down for decision next Thursday at Hawthorne, but how many of them will go to the post? Probably not more than three of those mentioned.

Presumably the stake offerings, after the failure of the Washington park meeting, are not sufficient to tempt the owners to give their charges a hard test, but it is hoped more of the good ones will come together than has been the case on local tracks thus far this season.

There are two other stakes on the Hawthorne program this week—the July Selling stakes, for 3 year olds and upwards, at a mile and a sixteenth, to be run this afternoon, and the Monadnock stakes, for 3 year olds and upwards, at a mile and an eighth, to be run Saturday. The crackajacks are engaged in the Monadnock, including English Lad, McGee, Bondage, Tokalon, Judge Himes, and Burleigh.

To Pay Out $22,800 This Week.

There are also handicap steeplechases this afternoon, Wednesday, and Friday. This week's program calls for the expenditure of $22,800, as follows: Today, $4,300; tomorrow, $3,400; Wednesday, $3,400; Thursday, $4,300; Friday $3,200; Saturday $4,200.

The track owners are more or less worried over the continued threats of stopping racing, but many of the patrons of the sport believe the efforts to close the tracks will not be successful. "When it comes to a showdown," said one of these Saturday, "the grand jurors will find, I think, that the majority of people are not opposed to racing if decently conducted; and, if they believe that to be the case, I don't think they will indict those connected with the sport—at least not those connected with the legitimate end of it, which is the tracks themselves."

East Fears Bad News.

Eastern critics are alarmed lest Bad News, with only 108 pounds, will win the big Saratoga handicap next week. Western horsemen hardly expect to see Bradley's horse win against good ones at a mile and a quarter. A mile and a furlong is about his limit when hard pressed. There are three or four local horses which can beat Bad News at a mile and a quarter.

With fifteen stakes to be disposed of during the twenty-nine remaining days of the Harlem Jockey club's season, there will be a stake race every other day, with a double allowance of two for the last day of this year at Harlem park. Secretary Nathanson has decided to open his next meeting with the $4,000 Garden City handicap at six furlongs. This race last year was won by Jack Rattlin and lost by Dick Welles on account of a heavy thunder shower fifteen minutes before post time. The $8,000 Twentieth Century handicap at a mile and three-sixteenths is set for Sept. 5. Among these fifteen stakes is a steeplechase.

Harlem Events for Two Year Olds.

Two year olds are eligible for half of the fourteen on the flat, five being exclusively for the juveniles and two for all ages. By the time these seven events have been run at Harlem park there may be a pretty fair line on the western candidates for next year's American Derby. This is a phase of the local racing that never stales.

Jack Lory, Flaxman, Kurtzmann, The Mist, Luzarion, and Handzarra appear at present to be the best of the 2 year olds. There are a number of other useful ones that may train on to make 3 year olds of class. Ivan the Terrible is a colt of good substance and next year is likely to beat some of those that outrun him now. Pinkerton probably would rank higher if he had not been campaigned so hard early in the year. Jack Lory is going to Saratoga in a day or two, along with eight other horses owned by J. W. Schorr, and he is quite likely to make a name at the Spa meeting.

The Youngster stakes, worth $3,500, will be the first of the Harlem 2 year old stakes. The distance is five furlongs, and it is to be run on Aug. 4.

MAY PUT END TO JUMPING RACES

Fatalities on Eastern Tracks Threaten This Form of Sport—Other Metropolitan Gossip.

New York, July 24.—[Special.]—The killing of Jockey Swallwell in the steeplechase at Brighton Saturday, following closely upon the fatal injuries sustained a week previous by George Green, who was thrown by Terrible Terry, has served to increase the growing unpopularity of the jumping game. Such exhibitions as have been seen recently at the Beach and other tracks, where the chasers are permitted to risk human life and limb cannot continue without summary action either upon the part of the turf authorities or of officers of the law.

It is indisputable that the racing public has no use for jumping races, not only because they are brutal, but also for the reason that they afford such a chance for shady business that they are poor betting propositions.

The last week of the Brighton meeting gives promise of some good sport. The Seashore handicap at a mile and a quarter will be the chief attraction tomorrow. The Holiday stakes for 2 year olds will be run Wednesday and the Iroquois stakes for 3 year olds at a mile and a furlong is down for decision Thursday. On Saturday the Anitree steeplechase, $7,500 added, the Neptune stakes for 2 year olds, and the Brighton Oaks for 3 year old fillies at a mile and a sixteenth will provide part of a magnetic card.

Hamburg Belle will be a sure starter in the Oaks, as she is in splendid condition, and has been working fast. Beldame will not go to the post, as her owner thinks it would be asking too much to give eighteen pounds to the Futurity winner of a year ago.

A week from tomorrow Saratoga opens. Many horses that will race there have been shipped and others will go from the local tracks this week. The first big attraction is the Saratoga handicap, in which it is possible Hermis, Waterboy, McChesney, Irish Lad, The Picket, and Africander may come together. No matter how many of these star horses go to the barrier turfmen are inclined to believe there is at least one horse that has been literally pitchforked into the big race. E. R. Bradley's Bad News is the one that looks dangerous to them. He will carry 108 pounds, which, in view of his easy victory over Hurst Park on Friday, is taken to mean that he will be a factor. Hurst Park does not class with Hermis, Waterboy, and others of their set, but Owner Bradley says the horse must be a world beater that gives twenty pounds to Bad News and beats him over a distance of ground.

HARNESS HORSES NOW AT DETROIT.

Blue Ribbon Meeting to Begin This Afternoon with Large Fields.

2:24 PACERS RACE TODAY.

Baron Grattan, China Maid, and Others in Chamber of Commerce Stake.

[BY HENRY TEN EYCK WHITE.]

Detroit, Mich., July 24.—[Special.]—The blue ribbon trotting meeting, which begins tomorrow, has brought to Detroit horse lovers from all over the country, the list of entries in the various events making it certain that while all the fields may not be large there will be a great deal of quality in each.

The Chamber of Commerce pacing stake for 2:24 horses will be the feature tomorrow, and from what the horses that are to start, ten in number, have shown the expert opinion is that first money lies between Baron Grattan, China Maid, Morning Star, and Angus Pointer in the order named. Under the conditions of the racing here all horses not winning a heat in three must go to the barn, so that while it will be possible for any of the field to lay up for a heat or two, the horse that does so will be taking a good many chances.

China Maid Improving.

China Maid beat Baron Grattan a couple of heats at Columbus two weeks ago, the race being limited to three heats, but in the final mile Grattan had the mare at his mercy. Since then, however, China Maid worked seven good heats over the Cleveland track—two of them in 2:07—and she came the last half of the final mile in 1:01. Baron Grattan has worked satisfactorily since coming here, but his best mile was 2:07½. Morning Star went a mile in 2:06¼ the other day, with McClary taking him back no less than three times. Some shrewd men say he will win. Angus Pointer is admittedly good for at least one mile better than 2:07, and it is understoood his party will play a waiting game, with the hope the faster ones will tire themselves out.

In the Big M. and M.

The $10,000 Merchants and Manufacturers' stake for 2:24 trotters is the attraction for Wednesday, and, in fact, of the entire meeting. Stanley Dillon will be the favorite. He worked five good heats last Wednesday—the fastest two in 2:10¼, 2:09, and the last quarter of the final mile was stepped in :31½. Horsemen consider him a 2:08 trotter right now, but there are at least two of the other starters, Miss Gay and Emma Hoyt, that have shown better than 2:10. Jolly Bachelor, that was said to be out of form, worked a slow mile today with a last quarter in :30, and will start. There is a feeling that Miss Rosedale, that hails from Maryland and has been raced carefully, is being kept under cover and may prove one of the money horses. She has been timed a quarter in :30 and has good manners. The Cleveland mare Italia will have Scott Hudson for driver and it is pretty well established that she can go at least one mile a trifle better than 2:10. The talk that she is short of work is not given credence. Miss Gay will be second choice in the betting. She can beat 2:10, but the story is abroad that she has trained off in the last week.

BRITISH OPINIONS ON THE MEET.

London Papers Say American Athletes Are More Scientifically Trained than Those of England.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

[Copyright: 1904: By the New York Herald.]

LONDON, July 25.—"Brain Beats Muscle" is the suggestive headline which appears in most of this morning's London papers over the report of Saturday's intervarsity athletic contest.

Comparing the methods of the British and American representatives, the Daily Express says:

In straightforward running we held our own. In those special competitions which require science, practice, and knack we were fairly beaten off. It was in the hammer throwing, hurdles, long jump, and high jump that the Americans gained four out of their six points. So it is, it may be noted, on all occasions when athletes from both sides of the Atlantic meet, and unless we reform our methods so it always will be. The fact is that the American makes a scientific study of those sports in which science can be applied and we do not. Yet more, the Americans practice with extraordinary keenness and assiduity. If muscle should be developed they develop it; if they can save a fifth of a second by skimming closer to the tops of the hurdles they practice it until they have obtained the necessary accuracy of eye. The American athlete takes one form of athletics and perfects himself in it. Our men are inclined to be diffuse. They generalize rather than specialize.

The Daily Mail says:

Except in one event, the long jump, in which Leach, the Oxford president, for some unaccountable reason, failed to get within four feet of the distance he had been covering in practice, all the Oxford-Cambridge men performed fully up to their home trials, and as in many instances the times returned for the various races were better than those recorded at the recent amateur championship meeting no reproaches can justly be leveled at our men and their failures.

The Morning Post says:

It would appear that the adoption of more scientific methods by our coaches and more careful attention to details on the part of their pupils would enable the latter to hold their own with the champions of Yale and Harvard.

MICHIGAN CREW WINS AGAIN.

Visiting Sailors Beat the Illinois Naval Reserves in Cutter Race on the Lake.

The hardy sailors of the United States training ship Michigan, now lying in Chicago harbor, yesterday again showed their superior ability to the Illinois naval reserves' crew as oarsmen, winning the cutter race just off shore, on Lake Michigan, with almost as much ease as they won the gig race from the "navies" Saturday afternoon. The naval reserves' boat led for a short distance, then the "regulars" drew alongside, and gradually forged to the front, winning by eight or ten lengths. The time for the mile was 10 minutes, the stroke of the victorious crew being thirty-two. The naval reserves put up a game defense.

Quite a crowd witnessed the race, which started just off Twelfth street and finished at Randolph. The gunners on the Michigan gave their victorious associates a noisy reception. Capt. Charles Laird, the commander of the Michigan, had ordered the boat open to visitors and a good crowd was on board. When the oarsmen arrived Mrs. Laird, wife of the captain, presented each with a red and white carnation, those being the crew's colors.

The members of the winning crew were: Gunner John J. Nicklas, U. S. N., coxswain; John J. Kirsch, stroke; Oscar Adams, John P. Larson, Jerome Conway, Fred I. Kaplinger, Eugene B. Andres, Ernest P. Flynn, Paul Ebisch, August Nelson, Guy O. Bennett, Fred Michaelis, Frank J. Carrier, bow.

The Michigan boys will have a crew race with the Detroit naval militia crew at Mackinac next month.

Cricketers Coming Today.

The Manitoba cricket team which is to compete this week in the Northwestern Cricket association tournament at Parkside will arrive in this city this morning and practice at Parkside this afternoon. The first game will commence tomorrow, the visitors meeting a team from the Wanderers.

GOING A-FISHING?

Where To Go

What To Take

Plenty of Bites, but Not the Right Kind.

August's approach brings with it the annually recurring question of "Where shall we go?" To the followers of Walton the picturesque lakes of Northern Wisconsin are attractive, but most fishermen make the mistake of angling in the lakes instead of in the near-by rivers with their panoramic views and delightful scenery.

Chicago Party's Experience.

Such was the experience of a party of Chicago millionaires last fall who, after several days of poor luck on Lake Minocqua, concluded to break camp and try a trip down the little explored Tomahawk River, where they found muskelonge in plenty, with an abundance of partridges to vary the menu. Two hours' hard work the first day resulted in a catch of twelve muskelonge of a good average size, and the bagging of all the partridges three hungry sportsmen and four hungrier guides cared to eat, by their glowing camp fire.

River Trip's Disadvantages.

The disadvantages of a river trip are the hard work of rowing in a blazing sun, the unavoidable portages and the woe caused by raids of myriads of pestiferous and insatiable mosquitoes which always infest the shores along rivers that pass through wild country. These trials, together with the hardships occasioned by frequent long tramps over an uncertain trail, are likely to play havoc with the office man's delicate skin, with the result that he is tortured with chafing, sore feet and sunburn. To add to his discomfort he gets welts from the bites of the poisonous insects.

Veteran Sportsman Avoids Discomforts.

But it is only the tenderfoot hunter who suffers all this discomfort. The old timer does not dread the piratical mosquito, nor sunburn, nor chafing, nor other things of this kind which menace the happiness of the embryo explorer. He always takes with him a supply of Derm-Aseptic skin lotion and knows that the swelling and burning caused by insect bites, chafing, sunburn and sore feet subside as if by magic when touched with this wonderfully soothing, healing liquid. Knowing the value of Derm-Aseptic he makes sure of ease and comfort.

Derm-Aseptic soothes and cures Eczema and all itching skin affections, and removes pimples. It makes healthy skins and clear complexions. It is harmless, soothing and antiseptic. Write to the Derm-Aseptic Co., P. O. Box 299, Chicago, for a free pamphlet—"Written reports from Physicians throughout the United States." All druggists recommend and sell it.

VENCEDOR THE FIRST IN.

PRICE'S BOAT AGAIN WINS THE CRUISE RACE TO MACATAWA.

Arrives in the Harbor of the Michigan Resort at 3:41 Sunday Afternoon—Neva, the Second to Reach Port, Comes In at 5:34—La Rita Is Third—Sailors Are Baffled by Hard Winds at the Start and Light Winds Nearing the Finish.

Macatawa Park, Mich., July 24.—[Special.]—Amid the blowing of whistles and the tooting of horns the yacht Vencedor of the Columbia Yacht club for the second time won the cruising race from Chicago to Macatawa Park. At 3:41 this afternoon the boat passed through the piers, which were lined with people ready to welcome it. Its arrival had been observed for several hours. As the wind had died almost away it took the yacht several hours to crawl from the Saugatuck piers, at which it was first observed.

The yachts Colleen and Snipe of the Macatawa Bay Yacht club went out to meet Vencedor, and it came in with an escort not only of the yachts but of many launches and smaller craft.

The yacht Neva was the second to reach this port, arriving in the harbor at 5:34 p. m. La Rita came in third at 6:27 p. m.

Several of the other boats are becalmed off the harbor.

The Vencedor crew report a stiff head breeze on leaving Chicago at 5 p. m. yesterday, which turned to fair during the night, but again shifted against them in the morning. The boat was obliged to tack up the shore and, the wind dying during the forenoon, the boat was obliged to drift under full sail into the harbor.

The Vencedor reports last seeing La Rita off South Haven, and having seen none of the yachts since until they came in sight this afternoon. In the early afternoon several could be seen far on the horizon, but with the exceedingly light wind it will be well toward midnight before the majority are in. All the yachts, it is thought, will arrive before morning, and all will be in the harbor by tomorrow noon.

Vencedor wins in this race a handsome silver cup presented by Commodore C. M. Camburn of the Macatawa Bay Yacht club. The Waukazoo cup was won by Vencedor two years ago and now is in Commodore Price's possession.

All of the yachts of the Chicago and Columbia Yachts club which will arrive tonight and tomorrow will lie in the bay waiting for the Lake Michigan Yachting association regatta next Friday and Saturday.

Over a thousand dollars' worth of prizes are offered by the Macatawa Bay club and by its individual members.

CLAIRVOYANTS.

AN HONEST PROPOSITION—
Professor James White, Chicago's celebrated clairvoyant, palmist, and spirit medium, is permanently located here. His honesty, test of time, and eleven years of continuous practice in Chicago has proved beyond all doubt that Prof. James White is the leader of his profession. As proof of his WONDERFUL POWER, to all who come prepared for readings TODAY, he will tell your FULL NAME, ADDRESS, OCCUPATION, AND THE OBJECT OF YOUR VISIT ABSOLUTELY FREE OF CHARGE. His advice pertaining to love, law, business, wills, estates, lawsuits, buying or selling property, speculation, investments, marriage, divorce, etc., is unequaled. He reunites the separated, causes speedy and happy marriage with one you love, restores lost affection, removes evil influence—in fact, everything. Professor White's advice is much sought for on past or future investments, for which he has no equal. He charges not one penny for such advice until the investment has paid a handsome profit. Is this not fair and honest? Great reduction today. Professor White, as a matter of advertisement, today will give his complete life reading for 50 cents; satisfaction absolutely guaranteed or no fee accepted. Everything strictly sacred and confidential. His residence is arranged so you meet no strangers. Don't mistake name and number. PROF. JAMES WHITE, 293 Warren-av., bet. Robey and Hoyne-av., West Side. GENUINE OPPORTUNITY IN PIANOS IN LYON & HEALY'S BARGAIN SALESROOM.

And bear in mind that these figures include overhauling in our own repair shops by workmen of the very highest skill. THIS IS IMPORTANT. The hours spent by a first-class workman on a piano of this class may mean all the difference between satisfaction and dissatisfaction. Besides, this does away with the danger of hidden defects.

A FEW EXAMPLES:
LYON & HEALY UPRIGHT, fancy walnut case, fretwork panels, but very neat in design. $135.
HUNTINGTON UPRIGHT, a beautiful case, just returned from school rental; could pass for new. $190.
KRAKAUER UPRIGHT, a beautiful mahogany instrument of delightful tone; medium size; would pass for new. $285.
IVERS & POND UPRIGHT, handsome rosewood case, entirely rebuilt and in fine condition. $190.
FINE NEW CABINET GRAND, mahogany, upright; bought from Eastern maker at sacrifice; offered at the special price of $190.
STEINWAY UPRIGHT, neat design; has been used only on rental. In this sale at $425.
THREE WEBER UPRIGHTS, nearly new, fancy walnut cases; modern in every respect. These pianos present a unique opportunity, for we have marked them much below their original prices.
FOUR KNABE UPRIGHTS; newest case patterns; fancy woods. At a great bargain.
WHEELOCK UPRIGHT, thoroughly modern fancy walnut piano; had only rental use; intrinsically worth much more than we ask for it; $200.
HAZELTON BROS. UPRIGHT CABINET GRAND, rosewood case; entirely rebuilt and refinished; an unusual bargain. $250.
SCHUBERT UPRIGHT, largest size, in fine mahogany case; very popular pattern. $190.
CHICKERING UPRIGHT, large size, rosewood case; finish perfect; excellent value at $250.
MAHOGANY UPRIGHT, plain but neat; clean action and clear tone. $125.
DECKER BROS., latest model, rosewood case; beautiful solid panels; entirely rebuilt. We recommend this piano most highly. $250.
GOOD PARLOR ORGANS VERY LOW. Choice of 20 different styles from $35 up. Second-hand organs from $10 up.

Exchange certificates, permitting exchange toward any new piano of higher grade, given free with all second-hand instruments.

Our regular stock embraces over 600 pianos, including the celebrated Steinway, the world-famous Weber, Krakauer, Sterling, Huntington, and other great makes. All these different pianos are distinguished by some special feature. The workmanship in each is of superior character, and every one of these pianos is of a design approved by the highest standards of public taste. Wonderfully low fixed prices are quoted.

EASY PAYMENTS—From $10 down and $5 a month upward.
Buyers at a distance should write for special bargain list, and also our schedule of freight rates. We ship pianos everywhere.

MORE WHEAT IS MOVING.

PRICES EASIER ON LARGER RECEIPTS IN SOUTHWEST.

Early Bulge on a European War Scare Is All Lost and More Cash Premiums Yielding in All Markets on the First Rush of the New Crop—Cash Prices, However, Still at High Premiums Over September—No Movement to the Gulf.

There was another sharp bulge in wheat early in the week, carrying the deferred deliveries to the highest prices of the crop, the chief influence being the mild threat of new international complications between Russia and England growing out of the seizure of an English mail vessel by a Russian ship, and encouraged by a drop in English consols and a bulge in Liverpool wheat prices.

Fears of more rains in the winter wheat belt or excessive hot weather in the spring wheat territory added a little to the bullish fervor aroused by the possibility of another and a larger war scare, and local bulls took advantage of the conditions to force prices up, and again go through the pleasing ceremony of running the shorts in again.

But the war scare faded away, the weather proved distinctly favorable in a general way in all sections, clear enough for the rapid thrashing and movement of wheat in the southwest, for a wonder, hot enough, but not too hot, in the northwest, to suit the most critical crop experts. There was also a liberal increase in movement of winter wheat, and before the end of the week this had become the important factor, causing a loss of all the early advance and some additional decline, prices at the end of the week showing losses of ⅞c to 2⅝c from the previous Saturday.

While foreign crop reports were more or less unfavorable and various French crop authorities made radical reductions in the estimated yield of that country, cutting off from 70,000,000 bu to 100,000,000 bu from last year's yield of 360,000,000 bu, and world's shipments dropped off sharply, resulting in a big reduction in the amount afloat, there was no indication of any immediate uneasiness on the part of the importing countries of Europe over their supplies for summer and fall use, no indication of the slightest intention to buy American wheat at the current level of values.

No Movement to Gulf.

For this reason the movement of wheat in the southwest was entirely to northern markets, where a year ago a large part of the movement was to gulf ports for export. Receipts of wheat, both at Kansas City and St. Louis, made a big jump from the small movement of the week before, and were nearly equal to the receipts for the corresponding week a year ago. Reports from Kansas City claim the movement to that market this week will exceed the figures for 1903. There were 1,353,000 bu at the two points for the week, compared with 216,000 bu the previous week, and 1,542,000 bu the corresponding week last year. There were larger receipts northwest than a year ago, an indication that more old wheat had been held back in the country than was supposed to be in farmers' hands. The local market did not feel the increased movement until toward the end of the week, new wheat beginning to reach here in fair volume on Friday, when there were 57 cars, including 44 of new winter wheat and the new wheat of extra good quality, 31 cars grading No. 2. Cash premiums suffered in all the markets, although still maintained at a considerable premium over the July, with the month almost gone.

It looks as though domestic millers, relying on the absence of an export demand, and on a liberal movement of new wheat at least as long as any of the cash premium is left, would be backward purchasers, and under such conditions the bull speculators may have trouble holding prices up while waiting for the export demand to come into the market. That this export demand must come in considerable volume sooner or later no one doubts, but it may be later for the reason that harvest weather in Europe has been favorable generally, and, while crops in a number of important countries are considerably smaller than last year, the quality is much better and European millers can begin grinding their home wheat where a year ago crops were saved in such poor condition they could not be used for some time, and foreign wheat had to be imported freely.

Foreign View.

As to the ultimate course of foreign markets, most crop and market authorities abroad seem to look for a good advance. J. W. Rush of London in a letter to the Northwestern Miller says:

"The only feature in the general outlook, in my opinion, which prevents a general desire to buy wheat for autumn delivery is the uncertainty with regard to the American crop and the surplus which will be available from that country. To put it briefly, you may take it for granted that the importing countries next season will require 512,000,000 bu, or 9,600,000 bu a week. Two things must happen if we are to expect 352,000,000 bu from countries other than Europe next season; one is that Argentina must have another big crop and a surplus of 80,000,000 bu, and another is that all must go well with the next Indian crop. I believe, therefore, that the importing countries will look to America and Canada for at least 160,000,000 bu in the coming season, and, failing that quantity, prices must inevitably advance from their present comparatively low level in order to attract the necessary supplies. By this you will see that I take a bullish view of the distant future."

Corn and Oats.

As in the previous week, there has been little in the corn market but a more or less slavish attention to the fluctuations in wheat. Trade has been small, speculation having drifted into the more active market, and prices have gone up or down within a more moderate range as wheat has moved one way or the other. The weather has been generally favorable for crop growth, a circumstance which has been against bull effort. Receipts have been moderate, considerably less than last year, but the shipping demand has also been tame, and export demand entirely lacking. Prices declined moderately on the whole.

In oats there was a fair advance in the September delivery to a new high price on the wheat strength and uneasiness on the part of some of the local shorts over the late movement of the new crop and the indisposition of the countrymen to sell new crop grain on the September basis. Stocks are small, and the few cars of new oats which began to arrive late in the week did not have any weakening effect on cash premiums. The September, however, after selling up to 33⅝c lost about ⅝c of its advance on local realizing and the wheat decline.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Only Trade of Consequence Is in Hogs, Eastern Shippers Being the Purchasers—Outlook Critical.

The only trade in live stock on Saturday of any consequence was in hogs to the eastern shippers, although packers bought a few. Receipts were estimated at 400 cattle, 6,000 hogs and 2,000 sheep. The week closes with conditions exceedingly critical. It certainly will be dangerous for the country to unload any considerable run of stock here for Monday. Commission men have been strenuously advising the country to hold back.

The following is a statement of the movement of live stock at the Chicago stockyards for the period indicated, with comparative figures:

STRENGTH IN THE MARKET

PRICES WELL HELD IN SPITE OF ADVERSE FACTORS.

Resources Have Been at Command of Those Behind Advance—While Reaction Seems Due, There Are No Good Reasons For or Against It—Some Gain in Wholesale Trade—Better Demand for Metals and Lumber—Reordering of Dry Goods.

As far as western sentiment is concerned, it cannot be doubted that the present market has been largely unexpected. It has been welcomed, for it has lent encouragement in more business houses than those engaged in receiving commissions. As prices have advanced reasons for their rise have been found. That is, existing conditions, which would have been the same in a falling market, have been found to account for a rising one.

But whatever view may be held of the advance, it is undeniable that it has been well sustained, and that some power well equipped with financial resources has been instrumental in carrying the movement forward. Here in Chicago it is generally held that the public has been an insignificant part. Some good Wall street houses have held the same view. Nevertheless, there has been sufficient money at the command of those who have manipulated the rise to keep it going in spite of profit taking and adverse factors.

The incidents in the Red sea were sufficiently potent on the bear side merely to check the improvement. Indeed, not until what seemed to be the most menacing facts appeared did the market give heed of the situation. Again crop news of a character sufficient to advance the price of cereals did not stay the bull movement in stocks.

Little Change in Situation.

As the new week begins there is little change in money or other conditions which ordinarily influence the course of prices. The foreign political situation, as it relates to Russia and Great Britain, has improved. No demand has been made upon New York for funds and the surplus reserve of the associated banks has continued to grow larger. Reports from the iron and steel industry are extremely hopeful, though it may be reasonably expected that some predictions for this business for the next quarter have been influenced by hopes born of better prices in securities.

To judges of markets, as the latter ordinarily go, it seems time for a reaction. Not only do those apart from exchange operations believe this, but traders on the floor have in the last few trading days shaped their operations in accordance with the same view. Nevertheless there has been no reaction to the degree anticipated. The market has stubbornly held its advance.

What has been accomplished can only be presented as a narration. Why and by whom prices have been so easily marked up are questions unanswered so far as the general public goes. Whether the advance will continue is equally speculative. It is to be said in favor of the market that conditions have much changed for the better since the beginning of the year. As unfavorable to the rise it is to be said that it has been manipulated and been almost wholly lacking in public support. As to its further continuance it may be noted that bond prices have reached the point where many purchasers of six weeks ago are beginning to realize. At the same time new buyers appear in the markets. To advance reasons for a further rise at this time is difficult. But with the presentation of the situation as it exists those interested may form their own judgment.

Bank Statement.

The bank statement Saturday should be a help to the stock market, for the reserve increased another $6,000,000, bringing it up to $50,609,600, the highest since June, 1898, when it was $62,206,250. But as pointed out, this reserve is largely one of bank and trust company deposits, and will go fast when there is a demand from business interests. Loans and deposits are the highest in the history of the banks. The figures follow:

Reserve, increased	$ 6,046,250
Loans, increased	12,330,500

Large July Bond Sales.

Original sales of municipal bonds in July down to July 14 aggregated, according to the Bond Buyer, $33,600,000. Sales for the month are expected to reach $38,000,000. The grand total of sales for the seven months of 1904 are expected by the same authority to exceed $260,000,000, which will be over $40,000,000 more than were sold during any previous twelve months.

Wholesale Trade Better.

While the volume of trade in wholesale lines generally showed little increase the feeling was better and the outlook for improvement in some lines was better. In dry goods the hot weather caused better retail buying of summer goods and this resulted in a gain in reordering from jobbers. There was a firmer tone in cotton goods owing to the losing of some of the fall River mills by a strike and a consequent curtailment of production. Mills generally were slow to make sales at present prices.

A better demand was noted in the metal market, especially in pig iron, and buying of lumber was reported considerably more active, with the best gain in yellow pine.

One influence in the generally more hopeful sentiment as to the future of business was the favorable turn in the weather, and its influence on crops. On the other hand, the strike at the stockyards had some influence on retail prices of meats in some sections and served to accentuate dullness in the coal market by removing from the market some of the largest consumers.

Coal Influenced by Strike.

"The strike of the packing house employes," says the Black Diamond, "has not had as disastrous an effect on the price of steam coals as was expected. Many producers of coal who supply this class of trade, at the first appearance of the strike, closed down or began producing other grades of coal, all of which has had a tendency to prevent the accumulation which otherwise would have occurred. In the Chicago market, which is a fair criterion of conditions elsewhere, there has been a reduction of only 5 to 10 cents on the poorer grades of screenings. High grade fine coals and run of mine, which it was thought might be affected, are as steady as a week ago at the same range of prices. Poor grades of screenings are the only drug on the market, and they are so low in price that it is difficult to obtain a range of figures that is actual. Domestic demand has been more or less stagnant, probably as a result of the warmer weather."

Metal Trade Better.

"The improvement in the sentiment of the western iron and steel trades is assuming more tangible form," says the Iron and Machinery World. "There are few lines of manufactured product in which this better spirit of trade is not manifested, though the volume of buying is less uniformly improved. The activity in pig iron noted last week continues, but the increasing volume of trade is not strictly indicative of an expanding consumption. Much of the buying consists of renewals of orders which expired July 1 or thereabouts. The users, with scarcely an exception, are ready to buy iron for their needs running to the close of the year and some to next summer. From 40,000 to 50,000 tons of pig iron have been bought in the Chicago market within the last ten days. There is also observable this week a heavier inquiry from the railroads for a wide variety of iron and steel material used in the shops and in car construction, and a noticeable gain in the demand coming from implement makers. There has been no decisive change in values."

STOCKS ARE DULL BUT FIRM.

Iron and Steel Issues Lead in the Day's Trading—Profit Sharing Is Apparent.

[BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

New York, July 23.—[Special.]—Dullness was the dominant factor in stocks today, although the undertone was firm. The only feature was the special firmness of the iron and steel stocks. Steel preferred added ⅞ to its week's gain and the stocks of the independent companies made some sharp advances. Rumors emanated from the neighborhood of the meeting of presidents of the United States Steel subsidiary companies which increased the conjectural earnings for the second quarter of the year to $20,000,000.

Despite dullness strength was clearly apparent, and, with a few exceptions, limited advances were made by stocks traded in to any extent. There was profit taking, but it was not sufficient to cause any weakening of stocks in which it appeared. There was a better tone in the London market, and practical elimination of the Anglo-Russian incident was an influence for good at the opening of the market here.

A feature of the market, if it may be so characterized, was the strength in Brooklyn Rapid Transit. That stock was taken in hand and advanced further on publication of certain new high records for daily earnings and substantial increases in net for the last month. Some minor industrials that heretofore have been inactive were notably strong today. Advances were noted in Republic Iron and Steel, Colorado Fuel and Iron, Tennessee Coal and Iron, and Sloss-Sheffield.

EXPECT RECOVERY IN LONDON.

Liquidation Movement Believed to Be Near End—American Shares Bost Buoyant.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
[Copyright: 1904: By the New York Herald.]

LONDON, July 23.—In stock exchange phraseology the last week has been one of Malacca. The market's interest, excitement, and subsequent anxiety over the movements of that vessel have had considerable influence. The expectation of cheap money has not been realized. Money, on the contrary, has been scarce and dear, and all through the month the bulls have been liquidating. It is believed that liquidation is completed or almost so, and therefore the best opinion is that a recovery in consols and, indeed, in all high class securities is at hand.

Americans have been the most buoyant and active spot in the market this week and the dealings have been freer than for a long time. Shrewd critics are unanimous, however, in the opinion that there is little bottom in the market, a rise having been brought about entirely by professional manipulation. The investor has certainly not put in an appearance as yet. Home railway stocks went up a little on Friday, when a report got circulated that the Russian government had released the Malacca, but shrank again when the report was declared to be unconfirmed.

IN FOREIGN MONEY MARKET.

LONDON, July 23.—Money was in fair supply today. The pressure was therefore lessened. The money stringency may be severe July 25, when $12,500,000 of Japanese money will be transferred to the Bank of England. The government will replace $32,500,000 of exchequer bonds by a new issue of three year bonds. This course is forced upon the government by the temporary inability of the Transvaal colony to provide the first installment of the indemnity loan. The stock exchange was quiet and generally firmer in the hope that the crisis had passed. The nearness of the settlement, however, prevented much of an advance in prices. Consols hardened. Home rails moved up, especially the southern group. Americans opened irregular, but recovered to above parity, became inactive, and closed firm. Kaffirs were occasionally harder. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 95⅝.

PARIS, July 23.—Prices improved on the bourse today, but business was dull. Russian imperial 4s closed at 92.70 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 505.

BERLIN, July 23.—Prices on the boerse today opened firm and higher. Later trading became inactive.

DISCUSS CAUSES OF CALAMITIES.

Pastors Say Suffering Is Necessary for Spiritual Perfection.

BUILDS UP CHARACTER.

Jesse Kolmos and A. R. Lambert Speak with Reference to Wreck Inquest.

Human suffering is necessary to spiritual perfection, according to two Chicago pastors who spoke yesterday concerning the Glenwood wreck inquest now in progress.

"All things come to perfection through pain," said the Rev. Jesse J. Kolmos, in Bethel Congregational church. "The grain must be bruised, the grape crushed, and the porcelain, gold, and silver must pass through the fire. A great poem is writtten with the lifeblood. The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church. The divinest giving is the giving of self. Humanity is lifted skyward by the cross.

"There come also through affliction, sorrow, and loss the sweetest words in any language, human compassion and sympathy. If we have passed through a great disaster or experienced a great sorrow, and obtained discipline and comfort through it all, we are able to be comforters to those that are in any affliction with the comfort wherewith we ourselves have been comforted of God.

"Moreover, there is also an enlargement of our intellectual horizon and of our spiritual vision through the dark side of human experience. It brings us into close personal contact with God, our fellow men, and our divinest destiny. Looking upon the mystery of human suffering in this way, we can repeat with the inspired seer, Paul: 'All things work together for good to them that love the Lord.' And we can believe the words of the profound poet, Browning: 'All's love, yet all's law.'"

Divine Rolling Mills.

Speaking on the subject, "God's Rolling Mills," the Rev. A. R. Lambert, pastor of the South Park Avenue Methodist church, said:

"The delicate watch spring, which regulates the timepiece, is the last analysis of the crude ore taken from the earth.

"Integrity, character—the mainsprings of society—are the last analyses of the unregenerate soul taken from the horrible pit of iniquity.

"Between the ore shaft and the watch spring lies the rolling mill, whose awful pressure must needs be felt in order to make the finished product.

Turning Out Finished Character.

"Between the pure gold of Christian integrity and unspotted character and the horrible pit of iniquity lie God's rolling mills of affliction, trial, etc., under whose tremendous grip of testing perfected manhood and womanhood must needs pass.

"The world's greatest republics have passed through the rolling mills of patriotic sacrifice and cruel, bloody war. The 'white robed throng,' seated on the highest thrones, have come up through great tribulations to take their places in the eternal republic."

DR. M'AFEE SAYS FAREWELL.

Preaches Final Sermon in the Forty-first Street Presbyterian Church—Committee Looking for Successor.

Dr. Cleland B. McAfee preached his farewell sermon last evening in the Forty-first Street Presbyterian church. In September he will take up his new work in Brooklyn, N. Y.

During the three years of Dr. McAfee's pastorate in Chicago the church received 600 members, making the present membership a little over 1,100. It has built a church house for its mission at Fifty-second street and Fifth avenue, at a cost of $14,000. The church supports two missionaries in Persia and a native worker in Corea, beside children in various mission schools around the world. In Chicago a bible worker is maintained among the negroes.

A committee has been appointed to nominate a new pastor.

TRUTH THE GREAT SENSATION.

Dr. W. B. Leach Advocates Being Outspoken in the Pulpit Till Men Reform.

Preaching yesterday in the Fulton Street Methodist church on "Sensationalism" the Rev. William B. Leach said:

"Truth is the greatest sensation of the twentieth century. The truth of some of those men's clubs, as we know it, some of us, would startle, and if all the truth about women's clubs, so called, were told it would be sensational, and if we dared to tell the bare truth of any community it would revolutionize.

"We ought to deal on the square, we preachers. God says that no liar, blasphemer, or impure person shall enter heaven. Why not tell it out. Called sensation? Yes. But God help us in such sensations till men shall cry out, 'Save, Lord, I perish.'"

CHURCH CORNER STONE LAID.

Foundation of Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Edifice, Which Will Cost $40,000.

The corner stone of the new Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Ebenezer church at Foster avenue and North Paulina street was laid yesterday afternoon by C. A. Hemborge, president of the Illinois conference of Swedish churches. The building and lot will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000.

A 20% Discount Sale on Women's High-Grade Footwear

BEGINNING this morning we will offer every pair of Women's Oxfords, both tan and black, now in our stock, including the famous Patrician Oxfords, also four lines of Patrician High Boots—black and tan—and all other lines of women's high boots now in stock at a discount of 20% from the regular selling prices. All sizes and all widths included in this sale.

The possibilities of this sale cannot be appreciated unless you visit our second floor shoe section and see for yourself the wonderful values offered. The Patrician Shoes and Oxfords enjoy a reputation that is national as representing the highest type of shoe building, and to our knowledge shoes or oxfords bearing the Patrician imprint have never before been sold at a discount, but during this sale we will offer choice of all the Patrician oxfords at a discount of 20% and four lines of Patrician high boots at the same saving. The other shoes and oxfords included in this sale are the representative products of the leading makers of women's footwear in this country.

This sale should crowd the department and extra selling space—additional salespeople have been provided.

We close Saturdays during July and August at 1 p. m.

Women's bathing suits in the popular styles, at from $5 to $20.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & Co.

New fall style women's rain coats, waterproofed fabrics at $10.50.

But Five and a Half Days Before Inventory.

IN the next five and a half days trading we want to weed out from our stocks all the odds and ends that are now left at the end of the season's selling, and feeling that the space they take up is of the utmost importance to us, in view of the soon to arrive fall stocks, we are going to do all we can to dispose of these odds and ends during the next five and a half days. Then we will not only have cleared the desired space, but will also have avoided the necessity of going through the work involved in counting these innumerable articles of merchandise. Radical and sensational price reductions we believe the certain method for clearing up our stocks, and the reductions made for the present week's selling eclipse in magnitude any reduction ever before made in this store.
